HAMILTON'S CONFESSION

Ex-Policeman Rooney Tells What the Prisoner Said to Him Directly After the Murder of Day.

Testimony of Other Witnesses Throws No Further Light—State Rests Case and Court Adjourns to Wednesday.

Minneapolis, Feb. 12.—The sensation in the Hamilton murder trial this morning came when former Patrolman Rooney, who was at the time of the affray on the police force, was called to the stand. He told his story simply and directly as follows: "When I entered the bar room that morning Watchman O'Malley said to me: 'Officer, take this man and lock him up. He did it.' I said, 'Did what?' 'Did this,' he replied, leading me to where Day's dead body lay on a billiard table. I took hold of Hamilton's coat sleeve and told him to come along. He was sitting in a chair in the bar room. Someone suggested that he should go with me. I said, 'I will go with you. Let the law take its course. I'll take the consequences. I killed him, but I did it in self-defense.' The witness then went on with Hamilton's confession to him as follows: 'Hamilton said: 'This trouble is all on account of a girl, Miss —', and then he gave her name. 'We have both been going with her. I told her Day had a disease. She told him. He got sore and had had it in for me ever since. Feel of this lump; Day did that. I had to do him. I couldn't stand and let him beat me and do nothing.' Afterward he said, 'This is terrible. I wish it had been the other way.' 'What other way?' I asked. 'That he had killed me instead of me killing him. Then he asked me if that lump Day had done it, but he didn't know who it was. I said, 'It seems to me a man like you could have taken care of a slim man like that without using a knife.' I would have liked to have jumped onto me," he answered. "As it was, I had to do it to save myself."

Francis asked if he had another. He said no. Then Francis asked, 'Did you have a large knife?' Hamilton answered, 'Yes.' Nothing was said about the knife until Hamilton said that he had the large knife or where it was. The cross-examination of the witness could not exactly locate the place where the confession was made. His memory was not clear on some other details, and the defense endeavored to show that his memory was not to be trusted. He said Hamilton appeared to be intoxicated, and he observed a lump on his forehead and an abrasion of the skin. Ex-Patrolman Rooney was the next witness and after he had given his evidence as above, County Attorney Boardman said: "The state rests." Court was then adjourned till 10 a. m. tomorrow in order to give the defense a little time to arrange its case.

The crowd this morning was larger than ever and the demand for places in the court room was insatiable. The prisoner was improved in health and appearance. Ralph Gary, recalled, was the first witness of the day. He could not identify the big knife and declared he had never seen it. He corroborated Gray's testimony of yesterday that at a certain juncture after the killing there was no one near the body. Ernest N. Rud, night clerk of the West hotel, testified that he was playing pool with the Day party, but only a part of the trouble. He heard what Day said to Hamilton on the first meeting, but did not hear the latter's replies. He saw the first scuffle and heard Day refuse to fight because Hamilton was not sober. His recollection of the affair and the persons there corroborated so far as it would the evidence of the state's other witnesses.

J. W. Bennett, the traveling man, was recalled. He denied emphatically that he had said to Hamilton as William Gray had claimed yesterday: "The man is dead; you killed him." Robert C. Hill, night police reporter on the Tribune, gave some important evidence. He had gone to the hotel to "cover" the case. There he saw Hamilton and Bennett. The latter was excited and hysterical and acted as if he had been drinking. Witness was a personal friend of Hamilton and had talked with him at once. He testified as follows: "I saw Hamilton and Bennett. Hamilton offered to do anything I could for him. I added that while things looked bad for him, he would cheer up and everything would come out right. Then I asked him if he did not want to go with me. He said, 'No, he did not.' He added something to the effect that it was all over, and that he was very drunk. I said, 'Is that your knife?' 'No,' he said. The witness denied that he had advised Hamilton to say nothing about the case, but admitted that Charles R. Francis, city editor of the Times, on which paper Hamilton was employed, had given him that advice in his presence. Francis had added: "You and see your friends. We'll stand by you and see you through this."

The sensation of Monday afternoon was the calling of Caroline Sigle as a witness. She said she had known Hamilton before the tragedy, she turned to the judge and said: "I understand that it is your duty to tell me." The defense insisted that the witness be instructed that she need not testify to anything that she had not seen or heard herself. At least the state should put its questions in writing and submit them to the witness. After a whispered conversation between the court and the lawyers, the court ruled that the witness need not answer. "That is all," said the county attorney. Mr. Penny asked if she was very intimately connected with either Day or Hamilton. She said she was not, and was then excused.

All the Philippine volunteers had been disposed of. Senator Kyle inquired in what light the president would regard the claims of a man who had served with distinction and had proved himself to be a good soldier, but who otherwise had fair mental qualifications for an officer. The result of the conference was that Senator Kyle came away with a strong impression that there will be no show for those not now in the service, and that all such will be held back until it has been determined how many men in the Philippines want appointments and possess the necessary educational qualifications.

THE ARMY APPOINTMENTS President McKinley Says That Preference Will Be Given to Volunteers Now Serving in the Philippines.

Washington, Feb. 12.—(Special to The Herald).—Senator Kyle yesterday had an important conference with the president in reference to the policy of the administration in making appointments under the army reorganization bill recently passed by congress. Briefly stated, the president's program in regard to army appointments is that at the present time no appointment will be observed with regard to states, sections or population.

The president stated that preference would be given, in making these appointments, to volunteers who are now serving in the Philippines who want commissions, and who are qualified otherwise for the duties of lieutenant. Such, he said, would be given preference, regardless of state lines or population, and afterwards selections would be made from the men who served in the Spanish-American war. These, however, would be held in abeyance until the Philippine volunteers had been disposed of.

Senator Kyle inquired in what light the president would regard the claims of a man who had served with distinction and had proved himself to be a good soldier, but who otherwise had fair mental qualifications for an officer. The result of the conference was that Senator Kyle came away with a strong impression that there will be no show for those not now in the service, and that all such will be held back until it has been determined how many men in the Philippines want appointments and possess the necessary educational qualifications.

Agreement Reached By Conference on Bill Settling Claims of Citizens.

HELD AGAINST SPAIN Provides For Commission of Five to Be Appointed By President.

Washington, Feb. 12.—The conference of the senate and house today reached an agreement upon the bill providing a means for settling the claims of citizens of the United States against Spain as provided for by the Paris treaty of peace. The house conference recede from their amendment requiring the court of claims to pass upon such claims; accept the senate provision for a commission. The new membership of the commission is, however, increased from three to five. A provision was inserted making the decisions of the commission final, but giving certain circumstances and also to the president the right to refer any dispute on points of law. The commission is to be appointed by the president and confirmed by the senate, and the bill requires that they shall be sworn to before entering upon their duties. The commission will be in Washington, and it is empowered to send a commissioner abroad to take testimony.

INSANE DEED.

Milwaukee Man Kills His Wife and Then Cuts His Throat.

Milwaukee, Feb. 12.—Charles F. Pol, living at 527 Barclay street, killed his wife with a butcher knife this forenoon, following up the deed by committing suicide. Pol was a laborer at the works of the Illinois Steel company. Mrs. Pol, who was his second wife, and who was also married before, was washing an infant in the kitchen and the husband attacked her with the butcher knife, stabbing her in the breast several times. When the neighbors rushed in in answer to her screams she was found with her head under the kitchen stove and the floor was one pool of blood.

There are thirteen children in the family, several of whom are grown up. The man was given by his wife, who ran into the street, screaming "Father wants to kill us." It is believed the father intended killing some of the children. When the neighbors arrived they found the man standing over the body of his wife, who was lying on the floor, covered with blood. He had stood before a mirror and with a razor cut his throat from ear to ear. No motive for the tragedy is known.

A PROTEST.

Porto Ricans Offer Strong Objections to Hollander Revenue Act.

San Juan, P. R., Feb. 6.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—Never in the history of Porto Rico has such a crowd of men been assembled at Porto Rico's government institution as were assembled here on Feb. 3. Within a short time the men who had gathered to protest against the Hollander revenue act, passed and signed by the governor on the night of Jan. 1. It was not a native crowd alone, but representatives of American houses in the city were present. The men of all parties had gathered to protest against a distasteful law. It was an angry session, but it was a business session. The men of all parties had gathered to protest against a distasteful law. It was an angry session, but it was a business session. The president admitted that he would hesitate a long time in turning down a good soldier who otherwise had fair mental qualifications for an officer. NOW A LOCKOUT IS A CANDIDATE

Scranton Silk Mills Will Not Reopen Until Strikers Capitulate.

Scranton, Pa., Feb. 12.—The strike of the 4000 silk workers in Scranton has resolved itself into a lock-out. The mill owners and managers today declared that they will not reopen their mills until the girls are willing to resume at the figures which were offered nearly two weeks ago, and which there was a concession of 25 cents a week to each employee. The strikers are determined to stay out until their demands are granted. They have asked all silk workers in the country for moral and material assistance, requesting them to strike if the mills at which they are employed handle material for the Scranton mills.

STRICKEN FROM RECORD

After Sharp Debate in House An Anonymous Letter Reflecting on Perry S. Heath Was Expunged.

Army Bill Came Up for Consideration—It Carries $117,994,649; Or $12,000,000 Less Than Estimates.

Washington, Feb. 12.—The chaplain of the house in his invocation today referred to the fact that this was the anniversary of the birthday of Lincoln, the emancipator and prayed that his life might be an example and inspiration to those now living. As soon as the journal was read and approved the struggle over the question of expunging from the record the anonymous letter reflecting upon Perry S. Heath, which was read at the instigation of Mr. Sulzer during the exciting session of yesterday was resumed. The letter appeared in the record this morning. Mr. Knox called up the alleged infringement of the provisions of the house. He claimed that the matter was before the house in two ways: First, as an unadvised business; second, as a matter appearing in the record over which the house had control. Mr. Knox said he admitted that a member might, upon his own responsibility charge any sort of offense against a man not a member of the house and not be liable to be called to account, yet, he contended that when a member introduced a paper the house obtained jurisdiction. He asked the house to adopt a resolution which he sent to the clerk's desk. The resolution recited the occurrence of yesterday and directed that the document be stricken from the record.

Mr. Bailey asked Mr. Knox to withdraw the preamble of the resolution. "I myself," said he, "intend to vote to strike this anonymous communication from the record." (Republican applause.) Mr. Knox consented to strike out the preamble and was about to demand the previous question, but at the request of Mr. Sulzer yielded five minutes to the New York member. Mr. Sulzer said he was at a loss to understand the anxiety to protect the character of Perry S. Heath, who was not a member of the house, while his party associates were exulting delightedly in the attack upon his personal character and reputation.

"I stand here," he continued, "and say that no man in this house can charge me with any offense whatever or with any misconduct. My life is an open book and when the gentleman from Pennsylvania yesterday attacked me I felt justified in smoking out the culprit who was responsible for the charges. I did not smoke him out," Mr. Sulzer shouted, with arm upraised, "I had the courage to stand here today and say that I was responsible for every word in that letter. If Mr. Heath thinks there is anything libelous or scandalous in that letter I will not plead my constitutional privilege. I will plead the truth of the statements."

This morning, a gentleman, a former member of this house, said to me: 'The man who wrote that letter knew Heath like a book; every word in it is true.' I have no object in striking the letter from the record."

But I serve notice that I am going to say everything in that letter, and want Perry S. Heath to answer. If he does he will be fit for the penitentiary. I want him to understand that I am responsible in damages for what I say. The house has no compunctions of conscience when he attacks me, but when I attack him he squeals like a pig under attack. I got that letter in the record. That was what I was after. I am now content to have it stricken out."

Mr. Knox's motion to expunge the letter from the permanent record was then adopted without division.

Mr. Tawney, chairman of the special committee of the St. Louis exposition, then tried to get up the exposition bill, but Mr. Cannon, the chairman of the appropriations committee, declined to allow it to come up until the pending bills were out of the way, and accordingly the house went into committee of the whole and took up the consideration of the army bill. It was arranged that the general debate should run for three hours. Mr. Hill, chairman of the military affairs committee, made a brief explanation. The bill carries $117,994,649, $12,355,232 less than the estimates.

BIG GLASS PLANT BURNED Rochester Tumbler Works, Finest in the World, Totally Destroyed—Loss $500,000 Fully Covered By Insurance.

Pittsburg, Feb. 12.—Nearly the entire plant of the Rochester tumbler works of the National Glass company, the largest and finest in the world, located at Rochester, Pa., was destroyed by a fire that started last night. The loss will amount to about $500,000 and is believed to be covered by insurance. An area of 1000 by 1500 feet was burned, and the greatest departments in the work destroyed. The fire was discovered in the cooper shop by the watchman and quickly spread to the warehouses, no rooms were burned there. The main factory. The main factory was a building 300 by 500 feet and contained the presses. In eight buildings were burned and the only portions of the plant left standing are the main building and the down warehouse. An overheated furnace is believed to have started the fire. The Rochester tumbler works had a capacity of 55,000 dozen tumblers a week. The plant covered an area of five acres.

When seen today H. C. Frick, president of the National Glass company said: "I am at a loss to know what started the fire. Inadequate water pressure retarded the work of the firemen and it was impossible to make any great headway by the firemen. The furnace, however, was not damaged, and the upper factory which was saved contained two. I cannot say much about the loss, but I believe we are fully protected. Out of a total of 1200, 600 men will be thrown out of work for three months. Whether we will rebuild or not I cannot say at this time. The machinery in the lower factory will be hard to replace, and the same cannot be done, except at a great cost. It was of the finest quality possible, and the molds, etc., and all were very valuable. There will be no salvage. The fire was confined entirely to the factory, and the planing mill properties in the vicinity escaped. The insurance was all placed in Pittsburg and covers the entire loss."

After the fire was well under control, there was an explosion near the vault containing all the molds and patterns and the falling walls crushed them. It is thought the loss on these will be total. Immediately arrangements were made to fill all orders by placing them with other plants of the National Glass company. The company, he said, would take care of the employees who were thrown out of work by the fire. The plant will probably be rebuilt, but nothing definite will be known until the officials meet.

NASH'S ACTION In Prize Fight Case Will Be Determined By Court's Decision.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Feb. 12.—A Times Star special from Columbus, says: Governor Nash was in conference today with Adj. Gen. Geyer and that a telegram was sent to Gen. McKim at Cleveland, ordering him to adjourn his court-martial until Monday. This is taken to mean that the adjutant is to relieve officers so they will be available for use in the night if necessary. Governor Nash indicated his attitude toward the Jeffries fight was determined by Judge Hollister's decision in the suit for the injunction.

IN HONOR OF LINCOLN

Various Cities Celebrate the Day in an Appropriate Manner.

PATRIOTIC PUPILS

Raise a Row Because They Were Refused Permission to Honor the Day.

Chicago, Feb. 12.—Parks, the board of trade, the stock exchange, courts and public institutions were closed here today in honor of Lincoln's ninety-second birthday. The chief event of the day's exercises was the public noonday meal at the city hall. A memorial hall under the auspices of the Grand Army Memorial Hall association. Addresses were made by local speakers. Various dramatic, musical and other organizations held commemorative meetings in various parts of the city. Others will be held this evening.

Nearly sixty pupils of the senior grades at the North Division High school, incensed because Principal Westcott would allow no holiday or Lincoln day exercises, refused to attend their classes this morning, and with a brass band playing popular airs, endeavored to get the rest of the students to join them. They were unsuccessful, but they ordered the principal Westcott to leave the grounds.

St. Louis, Feb. 12.—In memory of Lincoln's birthday the merchants' exchange and the stock exchange were closed today. The cotton exchange, however, remained open as usual and the banks and local trust company offices were opened. Special exercises were held in the public schools in honor of Lincoln.

Philadelphia, Feb. 12.—The memory of Abraham Lincoln was honored today in this city with appropriate ceremonies. School children, college students, civic, social and political organizations paid tribute to the American commoner in memory of his birthday. The city was decorated with flags and many private residences throughout the city were appropriately decorated.

Michigan Supreme Court Holds That Franchises From City Should Pay.

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 12.—An opinion was handed down today by the Michigan supreme court affirming the judgment of the Wayne county circuit bench that franchises received from the city are taxable. The decision was in the case of what is now the Detroit United railway company, the corporate name of the consolidated railway system of the city, against the common council of Detroit. Last year the assessors increased the assessments from the street railway company from $2,000,000 to $8,142,000, on the assumption that its franchises were taxable. The circuit court confirmed the assessors' action and the case was then carried to the supreme court.

The railway company applied for a mandamus to compel the common council to strike from the assessment rolls the same assessed to represent the value placed on the company's franchise. The supreme court in denying the application declares that the property of treating aggregations of property as a unit is as natural and proper for the purposes of assessment as for the purposes of sale, especially where the various elements are so essential to the purpose for which they are combined, that the withdrawal of one would impair the use of, or destroy all, for the purposes to which they in their new form, they adapted. The mandamus asked for to compel the striking of the assessment from the rolls was denied.

State officials profess to have no knowledge of the issuance of such orders. It is thought in some quarters that Colonel Potter Stansbury, commanding the Fourth and Sixth regiments, respectively, knowing that Governor Nash has declared his intention to prevent the fight, with troops, if necessary, have anticipated a call to arms and merely prepared for such possible action by notifying their captains to be ready for eventualities.

Michigan Supreme Court Holds That Franchises From City Should Pay.

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 12.—An opinion was handed down today by the Michigan supreme court affirming the judgment of the Wayne county circuit bench that franchises received from the city are taxable. The decision was in the case of what is now the Detroit United railway company, the corporate name of the consolidated railway system of the city, against the common council of Detroit. Last year the assessors increased the assessments from the street railway company from $2,000,000 to $8,142,000, on the assumption that its franchises were taxable. The circuit court confirmed the assessors' action and the case was then carried to the supreme court.

The railway company applied for a mandamus to compel the common council to strike from the assessment rolls the same assessed to represent the value placed on the company's franchise. The supreme court in denying the application declares that the property of treating aggregations of property as a unit is as natural and proper for the purposes of assessment as for the purposes of sale, especially where the various elements are so essential to the purpose for which they are combined, that the withdrawal of one would impair the use of, or destroy all, for the purposes to which they in their new form, they adapted. The mandamus asked for to compel the striking of the assessment from the rolls was denied.

The Ohio National Guard Is Said to Have Received Orders.

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 12.—Company commanders of the Fourth and Sixth regiments, O. N. G., have received, it is stated, secret orders to hold their men in readiness for service in connection with the alleged determination of Governor Nash to prevent the Jeffries-Ruhlman contest, set for Friday night in Cincinnati. State officials profess to have no knowledge of the issuance of such orders. It is thought in some quarters that Colonel Potter Stansbury, commanding the Fourth and Sixth regiments, respectively, knowing that Governor Nash has declared his intention to prevent the fight, with troops, if necessary, have anticipated a call to arms and merely prepared for such possible action by notifying their captains to be ready for eventualities.

West Duluth

West Duluth has a number of chicken fanciers and as a result is well represented at the fifth annual exhibit of the Duluth Poultry association that is now going on at 321 West First street. The scoring is being done today, and the West Duluth birds are said to be making an excellent showing. J. P. Weir has a choice exhibit of silver laced Wyandottes, as has also G. W. Smith. C. C. Sater's black Minorcas are attracting attention. Ole Backlund has a fine exhibit of black Minorcas and Barred Plymouth Rocks. The Stewart Brothers have a splendid variety of birds on exhibition, among them being Red Caps, Partridge Cochins and Cornish Indian Game chickens.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Nygren, of West Duluth, entertained a small party of friends at cards last evening, and a delightful time is reported. Progressive was the order of events, and the head prize was won by Miss Wright. Mrs. Webb received the consolation prize. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Webb, Misses Glover, Anne, of Duluth; Lester, Wright, Messrs. Neil, Hawkins, Hughes, Lambert, Stewart, Miss Ida Sears expects to leave the first of next week for a visit in St. Paul and other points.

A girl has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Sunstrom. Miss E. Schovner was entertained by West Duluth friends yesterday. Mrs. Robert Forbes has gone to St. Paul to join Dr. Forbes. They expect to leave St. Paul for a visit in California. Wesley Hessay left today for Duluth camp, on the Cloquet river. He took with him a number of teams. M. P. Doyle, who is operating a large camp on the Cloquet river and taking out logs for the Mitchell & McClure company, was in West Duluth yesterday and today securing more teams. Mr. Doyle says that the season's work is progressing very nicely. There is a good sleighing in the woods, and the only difficulty seems to be getting enough teams to handle the loads. John Newton left West Duluth last evening for Oregon, where he will reside permanently.

Edward Simonds left this morning with one of Patterson's rigs to take some parties to Whitefish near Kelsey. The little son of Rev. and Mrs. J. Madison is sick with a cold and with diphtheria, as was reported.

T. F. Olson, who has been quite sick with pneumonia, is reported slightly improved. About thirty of the young people of the Westminster Presbyterian church were given a delightful sleigh ride out to Spirit Lake last evening through the kindness of C. C. Osgaard, the liverman.

Miss Maud French has returned to her home in Onondaga, having given up her school in Otter Tail county on account of ill-health.

William Springstead, who received an appointment as hospital steward in the regular army, has written friends that he arrived safely in San Francisco, where he will be quartered until ordered to the Philippines.

Edward Frater will leave tomorrow for Louisiana, where he will join E. E. Gilpin, who went down there several weeks ago to enter the employment of a large lumber company.

Aaron West, of West Duluth, has been badly bruised by a runaway team near the Iron Bay plant. He had just come down from the woods with his team when the runaway team collided with him.

CAUGHT IN THE FAR WEST

James A. Taylor, Wanted in Duluth For Bigamy, Arrested at Seattle Where His First Wife Is Living.

Was Married Last May in Duluth to Gertrude Adams Taylor and Deserted Her Two Weeks Later.

James A. Taylor, suave, handsome and a brilliant talker, claiming to be a wealthy ranch owner, a railroad contractor and a breeder of thoroughbred trotting horses, sits apart in a Seattle prison, unhappy and bitten by notoriety.

He was arrested last night on a charge of bigamy preferred by the relatives of Gertrude Adams Taylor, of this city, whom he married last May, and whom he deserted a few weeks after the marriage.

Taylor came to Duluth about two years ago. He is probably one of the handsomest men ever seen on the streets of this city. Added to his fascinating looks, is his charming personality, his manners, he is said to have had the highest form of prevarication down to a science. When he first came to Duluth he was employed for a time at Keadall's livery barn on Second avenue west. Later he went into business for himself, a series of deals with prominent Duluth business men, in which the Duluthians lost much money and the suave stranger made much.

At the time that Taylor was at the height of his popularity here he sought an introduction to Miss Gertrude Adams, a very pretty and estimable young woman, then clerking in Pantan & White's store. For six months prior to this introduction Miss Adams had heard much of Taylor through her girl acquaintance. They were introduced and they were followed by a declaration on the part of Taylor, and on May 10 last they were married.

A couple of weeks after the marriage it was decided that Taylor should close this business affairs in this city and they were to go out to his Montana ranch to live. Mrs. Taylor's mother had been in the city for some time, and she was to attend the wedding, and it was decided that Mrs. Taylor should accompany her home for a short visit, and as soon as Taylor closed up certain business affairs here he was to join her at Ontonagon and then return to his home. Shortly afterward he left Duluth, hurriedly, stopping at the home of his bride's parents in St. Paul, and he had business with some Easterners, left Ontonagon, and that was the last seen of him.

His leaving here created considerable stir among those that had business relations with him, and it was not long till stories of shady transactions reached the ears of his wife's relatives. In investigation they discovered that he was another wife and family. For six months they have been searching the country for him.

Recently a Duluthian, whose name is withheld, but who claimed to have been done out of a large sum of money by Taylor in a cattle deal, ran across him in Seattle and located the house where he was living.

He is also said that he had a prominent society young man out of a road wagon. He secured it through a mutual friend and then he was made good and sold the rig for cash, according to report in local circles.

Another report has it that just before Taylor's hurried departure from Duluth, he rented a house up on First street, and that it was absolutely necessary for him to dispose of the house and rig.

where he was living with his first wife. He sent the information back here and it was placed in the hands of local detectives by the relatives of his second wife.

The two people that know the most about the case, County Attorney McClintock and Detective Robert Benson, declined to give out any information regarding it this morning, saying that while every effort would be made to extradite Taylor, nothing had been decided on definitely.

Gertrude Adams Taylor is now taking a course of training in a dress-making school in Minneapolis. She is a native of this city, and is from a good family. He has a brother who is a preacher in one of the towns of the western part of the state, another brother in Detroit, and a sister in Minneapolis, who is highly connected. With these family connections the relatives of his second wife never thought for a moment that there was anything wrong. He was first married in Spokane ten years ago to a Miss Florence Pope. From this union he has two children.

Taylor is six feet tall in his stocking feet, weighs 160 pounds, is 38 years of age, has brown hair and a brown mustache. He boasts of being a Western ranch owner and carried this play out in general appearance and dress.

J. P. Johnson, of Britt, Iowa, claims that Taylor beat him out of $500 in horse deals, while he was in Duluth, and is among the long list of persons that are anxious to see the present case against him pushed to its very limit.

Among the horses secured in this manner was a very fine pacer now owned by a prominent board of trade man. The afternoon that Taylor left Duluth last June, he offered a horse and buggy for sale at several places at a price that surprised all who saw it, and he was made good and sold the rig for cash, according to report in local circles.

Another report has it that just before Taylor's hurried departure from Duluth, he rented a house up on First street, and that it was absolutely necessary for him to dispose of the house and rig.

Another report has it that just before Taylor's hurried departure from Duluth, he rented a house up on First street, and that it was absolutely necessary for him to dispose of the house and rig.

He is also said that he had a prominent society young man out of a road wagon. He secured it through a mutual friend and then he was made good and sold the rig for cash, according to report in local circles.

TWO FINISHED.

Second List of Four Hundred Jurors Used and More Needed.

The district court terms of the past year have been hard ones on jurors. The 400 names drawn last March for use during the year that ends with this month have been twice exhausted, and additional names had to be drawn to complete the work. A jury case is coming up next Monday for which additional names had to be drawn, and for the March term the entire list of grand and petit jurors will have to be made up in addition to the old list. The Palmer case exhausted the regular 400 first, and extra jurors had to be drawn for the January term, and these have been exhausted. Now twenty names have been drawn for the trial next Monday, and sixty names were to be drawn this afternoon for regular service in the March term. The new list of 400 names which is supposed to last a year will be drawn next Monday for which additional names had to be drawn, and for the March term the entire list of grand and petit jurors will have to be made up in addition to the old list. AIMED AT BOYCOTTS

Labor Organizations Fear
Daily Bill Is Designed to Prevent Them.

WILL LOOK INTO IT

Will Fight the Measure If
It Infringes on Present
Labor Rights.

Duluth labor organizations are somewhat apprehensive of a bill recently introduced in the legislature by Senator Daly, of Duluth. On its face this bill is apparently aimed against the whole-sale lumbermen of the state, but the organized labor interests have been notified that it is the old anti-boycott bill of the last session in disguise.

As a result of this alleged discovery the wires between St. Paul and Duluth were kept busy for a time last evening, and the other end of the line assured the Duluth men that there was nothing in the bill that was aimed at organized labor, intentionally. However, investigations are being made in St. Paul, and the local labor leaders are anxious to know definitely as to its scope, intent and purposes.

The members of the Duluth delegation, it is claimed, will stand by the organized labor interests in any bill that may come up this year, and for that reason one of the members of the labor movement said today that it would be useless to make a fight on this bill further than to pass resolutions against it, should it prove to be an anti-boycott measure in disguise. He even expressed the fear that a bill similar to the famous measure introduced in the legislature two years ago might go through against the united opposition of the city members of the legislature.

W. E. Shaffer, when asked regarding the bill said: "We have heard nothing definite regarding it, but I can see no cause for apprehension or anxiety on the part of local labor people. The bill seems to be aimed against corporations, trusts and the like, and it is very doubtful if the author ever thought of labor organizations in framing it. Even if this is the case, I am sure that nothing can be learned regarding it till it comes up in committee."

The bill says in part: "If any two or more persons or corporations who are engaged in buying or selling any article of commerce, manufacture, merchandise, merchandise, commodity, or service, or any product of mining, or any article or thing whatsoever, shall enter into any pool, trust, agreement, combination, confederation, association or understanding to control or limit the trade in any such article or thing, or to limit competition in such trade by refusing to buy from or sell to any other person or corporation any such article or thing, or to do so for the reason that such other person or corporation is not a member of or party to such pool, trust, combination, confederation, association or understanding, or shall boycott or threaten any person or corporation for buying from or selling to any other person or corporation who is not a member of or party to such pool, trust, agreement, combination, confederation, association or understanding, any such article or thing, or to do so, shall be liable to a fine of not more than $100."

Superior Rinks Defeated.

Two of the rinks from Superior that played against the Duluth rinks in the Superior-Duluth league contest at that city last Friday evening, came over to Duluth and played last evening and the Duluth players showed them what they could do when they had been let to go. The scores were as follows:

Superior-Duluth
H. A. Criss, 10; L. McManis, 10; A. R. Black, 10; George C. Fyfe, 10; Skip-10.
Superior-Duluth
L. A. Nichols, 10; Thomas Gibson, 10; W. W. Strickland, 10; R. N. Bradley, 10; A. R. Smith, 10; Skip-10.
The date for the second game with the Superior curlers has not been fixed and it will probably not be before next week as two of the Duluth rinks are broken up by the absence of players at the Winnipeg tournament.

VESSEL RATES.

Transportation Men Think
There Should Be Good Demand For Tonnage.

Already the vessel men are beginning to talk of transportation rates for the coming season, and the sentiment seems to be quite general that with any kind of a foreign market for grain this spring, the rate for lake transportation ought to be as good as they have been. If not a little better. The operators at Duluth had news of the fact that the rate for grain is coming in steadily, while there is said to be in the neighborhood of 200,000 bushels of grain at Chicago. The vessel men think that there is, therefore, about 400,000 bushels of grain to be moved and the outlook for the carriers may be considered encouraging. The one thing that is feared is likely to back the prospective shipping interests is the possibility of light sales abroad, which means a slack demand for shipment to the seaboard.

Some winter chartering is said to be done at Chicago, but nothing very stirring as the owners are very cautious. No chartering is understood to have been made for the head of the lake. Men well posted in marine conditions claim that at the present time four-fifths of the new tonnage under contract on the lakes is for bulkhead owners, which means as well the small combination of capital, that is, under close supervision. This is taken to mean that the firms have enough tonnage to meet their present needs, and will not need more until some time is come. The bulkhead and small companies are building single boats and fleets for the carrying of lake and ocean freights together and for each.

POISON FOR MILLIONS.

Alarming Testimony Concerning Arsenic Used in English Beggars.

London, Feb. 12.—Dr. Campbell Brown, the city analyst, testifying at a hearing position inquest at Liverpool, estimating from samples examined, that the average weekly consumption of beer in Liverpool, in summer time, would contain 300 pounds of arsenic, enough to kill 1,000,000 people if administered in equal doses and at one time.

VERY GOLD.

Mercury Frozen When Temperature Dropped to Eighty-Two Below Zero.

Cincinnati, Feb. 12.—A letter to the Enquirer from Dawson, Yukon Territory, dated Jan. 18, says: The weather during the past ten days has been the most remarkable ever known in the Klondike regions. The lowest temperature that was recorded prior to that time was 55 degrees below zero, and the thermometer dropped day by day and finally broke all records. On Jan. 15 it was 82 below zero, which is the coldest ever known in this northern country. A majority of instruments after recording 70 to 75 degrees must have imagined they were working overtime, as they ceased to register the temperature at that point.

The very air was frozen, and you could hardly see ten feet in front of you, and very few ventured out of their homes. Frozen feet, hands and faces were very numerous, and several miners were frozen to death in their cabins. A stage that runs from the mines to Dawson arrived yesterday and stopped in front of one of the hotels, but as the driver did not get out the hotel people went out to see what was the trouble, and found the driver frozen stiff. The Northwest mounted police, a sort of military police, who patrol the Canadian districts, have refused to let any one leave for outside points till the weather moderates, as the danger is too great.

One of the most interesting things witnessed here was the remarkable work of the Dawson fire department in confining and finally getting under control a fire which had good headway, and which threatened the destruction of the whole city. With the thermometer at 31 below and the water freezing as fast as it left the hose nozzle, the brave firemen worked heroically for five hours, and finally had the flames under control with comparatively small loss. Today is a great deal warmer, as it is only 62 below.

TO CONSOLIDATE FLEETS.

Carnegie Deal Will Embrace Ore Carriers of the Lakes. Pittsburgh, Feb. 12.—A report received yesterday that the Carnegie deal contemplates the consolidation of the Pittsburgh Steamship company, the Carnegie concern, the great Rockefeller ore fleet and the fleet of the American Steel and Wire company. The new organization, in that case, will dominate entirely the ore carrying trade of the great lakes. At the Carnegie building an official said that an announcement will be made the latter part of the week.

IDENTIFIED AS MURDERERS.

Joplin, Mo., Feb. 12.—Johnson and O'Neil, who have been held in this city several days, suspected of complicity in the Cuddy-Kilpatrick case, were yesterday identified as the men who killed the marshal while robbing a bank at Bernhardt, Mo. The marshal's daughter positively identified Johnson and O'Neil as the men who killed her father. At the time of the robbery $10,000 was taken, and $20,000 was destroyed by the explosion that wrecked the safe. When arrested here the men carried several thousand dollars in gold. They were taken to Nevada for trial.

WILL SUCCEED SHAFER.

Washington, Feb. 12.—Gen. Young, who was confirmed a major general, has been chosen to succeed Gen. Shafter in command of the department of California, with headquarters at San Francisco, about the middle of March. He will relieve Gen. Shafter, and the latter will be appointed a major general in the army and immediately retired, in accordance with the terms of the army reorganization law.

Indian Department Flooded With Letters From Nearly Every Country.

ARE AFTER SQUAWS

Report That Indian Girls Will Get Money and Land on Marriage.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, Feb. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Any amount of amusement has recently been caused at the Indian department by the receipt of a large number of applications from persons desirous of wedding Indian heireses. From almost every country in Europe has come a shower of letters from persons anxious to marry American squaws. As has been charged in the case of impetuous but titled foreigners, who seek wives on this side of the Atlantic, the chief object of the inquiries is to obtain money and land. The letters are referred to the commissioner of Indian affairs for report. Here the inquiries are referred to the commissioner of Indian affairs for report. Here the inquiries are referred to the commissioner of Indian affairs for report.

From Russia came a letter from a man who said he was a distinguished physician and was directed to the commissioner of Indian affairs in person, and his composition showed the result of much labor. The writer seemed to have learned his English from books, but on the whole, his letter was above the average. Commissioner of Indian Affairs, who is the secretary of the interior, recently stated that as the latter had sent some time in Russia, he was acquainted with the kind of squaw would be best suited to the tastes of the man from the land of the czar.

ECZEMA'S ITCH IS TORTURE.

Eczeema is caused by an acid humor in the blood coming in contact with the skin and producing great redness and inflammation, little pustular eruptions form and discharge a thin, sticky fluid, which dries and scales off; sometimes the skin is hard, dry and fissured. Eczeema in any form is a tormenting, stubborn disease, and the itching and burning at times are almost unbearable; the acid burning humor seems to ooze out and set the skin on fire. Salves, ointments and other external applications do any real good, for as long as the poison remains in the blood it will keep the skin irritated.

BAD FORM OF TETTER.

For three years I had Tetters on my hands, which caused them to swell to twice their natural size. Part of the time the disease was in the form of itching sores, very painful, and causing me much discomfort. Four doctors said the Tetters had progressed too far to be cured, and that I could do nothing for me. I took only three bottles of S. S. S. and the disease was completely cured. This was fifteen years ago, and I have never since seen any sign of my old trouble."—Mrs. L. A. JACKSON, 1414 McGee St., Kansas City, Mo.

S. S. S. neutralizes this acid poison, cools the blood and restores it to a healthy, natural state, and the rough, unhealthy skin becomes soft, smooth and clear. S. S. S. cures Tetters, Erysipelas, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, and all skin diseases due to a poisoned condition of the blood. Send for our book and write us about our cases. Our physicians have made these diseases a life study, and can help you by their advice; we make no charge for this service. All correspondence is conducted in strictest confidence.

STARCH FACORIES

The Chief Industry of the Great Country of Aroostook, Maine.

GROWTH IS STEADY

Champion Potato Grower and Starch Maker of the United States.

Boston, Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The great potato county of Aroostook, Maine, which is the largest in the East and one of the few largest in the United States, with its 6500 square miles, is one of the few regions in the New England states, outside the cities, which show a steady growth in population. While the Maine potato population of the East is generally a decreasing one, this great county, way up along the Canadian boundary, and where cold weather and deep snows are the rule in winter, where fur coats and fur caps are worn, and where the potato is the staple crop, is a great exception. It is the only potato county in the United States which is a steadily increasing one. It is the only potato county in the United States which is a steadily increasing one.

Typical of the missives sent by the seekers after the prize Indian heireses, is one from Havre, France, which reads: "His Excellency, the President of the United States. I am from a French newspaper of the order made by the United States government. I am disposed to accept the same. Inform me of particulars by telegraph, at my expense. Have been brought up in the country and familiar with horses, raising, and have practiced them many years with success. Awaiting an early reply, I am, your obedient servant." Photographs galore have been added to the files of the interior department by Hon. William A. Jones, commissioner of Indian affairs. One applicant, who evidently placed much reliance upon his looks, sent four or five pictures, with the request that they be distributed among the Indians, and asked that the best looking girl, who had the best prospects, be reserved for him. One German also wanted a wife. He stated that he worked in a factory, but was tired of the old country. He is something of a musician, he said, and might be able to join one of the Indian bands.

One of the most curious was one penned by a man in Switzerland, and from the penmanship and general make-up of the letter it was evidently that of a business man. In his imagination, the United States was overstocked with Indian females, and while he might take one for a wife, he was frank enough to state that the money was not to be secured. He declared that it was his intention to enter upon a business venture and said his prospective bride must hold on to her property here, so that in case he failed he might come back and find his wife waiting. But only in case his wife was pretty. She was to meet him in Switzerland and the money was to come in advance. Among other requirements his letter contained the following:

"I want a girl of 17 or 18 years old, 1.65 or 1.75 meters in height, of fine figure, not stout nor thin. As for my race, I will say that I am not a favored one."

Then he proceeded to state the stipulations regarding to his prospective bride, and that he was to meet her in Europe, and directs that she select 500 acres of land before setting out to see him.

From Russia came a letter from a man who said he was a distinguished physician and was directed to the commissioner of Indian affairs in person, and his composition showed the result of much labor. The writer seemed to have learned his English from books, but on the whole, his letter was above the average. Commissioner of Indian Affairs, who is the secretary of the interior, recently stated that as the latter had sent some time in Russia, he was acquainted with the kind of squaw would be best suited to the tastes of the man from the land of the czar.

A POOR BREAKFAST.

Very Few People Eat a Good Breakfast.

"All I want for breakfast is a roll and a cup of coffee." This remark is heard not only in hotels, restaurants and lunch rooms, but in the usual breakfast order in the home circle as well. After a twelve hours' fast it would seem that the first meal of the day should be a hearty, substantial one, and if we all lived natural, unartificial lives, it would be so, but none of us do, hence breakfast is a mere pretence.

Says a latter day philosopher: "During many years of active business life I never remember having eaten a good, substantial breakfast, but supposed it was of no importance until I began to lose my appetite for lunch and dinner."

"My physician told me I was a victim of nervous dyspepsia and that rest and recreation, as no medicine would reach the trouble, but this advice I could not follow, as my business affairs would not permit it, and to get relief I resorted to medicines and prescriptions, and it was purely accidental that I hit upon a remedy which did the business. While in a drug store one evening I noticed a number of people buying Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, a widely advertised preparation for stomach troubles, and the force of example made me buy a box for myself. I took a 50-cent box of Stuart's Tablets with me last month and kept my digestion in good order, and I know of no better investment a business man can make."

opened up. The farmer sorts his potatoes, carries his best ones to the potato dealer who is a most important part of the commercial life of Aroostook, and the others to the factory. It is likely, however, that long before the crop is dug, contracts have been made for a good portion of his supply by the manufacturers of starch. The potatoes are delivered in sufficient quantities the factory is started up. The potatoes are washed, then graded by a great roller, the pulp falling upon a large wire sieve, clear water being run over the sieve from large pipes and the starch washed out of the pulp. From the sieve the starch is carried to a large vat, where it is allowed to settle in solution is allowed to stand twenty-four hours, when the starch has settled to the bottom, and the clear water is removed and the residue subjected to a second washing. The starch is then run through a fine sieve, and the process is repeated until all the starch is separated from the pulp, which is then dried by means of steam pipes. It is then ready for packing for export to 25,000 barrels of potatoes a season, and turn out from 100 to 200 tons of starch.

SERVING THE FAMILY DINNER.

In all households where some degree of ceremony is observed in serving the family dinner, the table is a most important part of the service. A moderately intelligent butler or waitress.

The blundering efforts of a stupid or badly trained servant in the dining room are not only a disgrace to the hostess, but make the position of the possible guest as uncomfortable as that of the hostess.

The serving of the meal may not be complicated or difficult, but there is always the possibility of peculiar situations arising which only a well-trained and intelligent servant can ward off so skillfully as to leave the guest and even the hostess unconscious of the various contrivances.

WATRESS USUALLY PREFERRED. In most houses a most brilliant girl is to be preferred, for obvious reasons. A well-trained and self-sufficient butler is expensive, and rather a "white elephant" in a family of moderate means and social ambitions. When but one or two servants are kept, the second girl generally performs the duties of both.

She should be taught to be noiseless and her movements as unobtrusive as the dining room and table. Next and dignity in appearance, and observing the same rule in regard to serving. She must show perfect indifference to the conversation carried on at the table, and know just when to hear and disappear, as the mistress wishes, or when to remain to assist in the meal, for the final ending of the meal, for with the placing of the dessert or coffee, the waitress' services and attendance are no longer required.

First of all the table must be covered with a clean cloth. This is a matter of economy as well as necessity. The soft padding protects the table from hot dishes and preserves the table linen always preventing its wearing around the edges, and the soft padding is so easily obtainable. Double-faced cotton flannel, made especially for this purpose is best.

Over this cloth place the damask cloth, arranged very smoothly. When one has a hostess, using a thoroughly chilled bowl that has been rubbed inside with a little oil before bringing to the table. Have the oil and vinegar in cruets, and both perfect when the dinner is served.

pepper to taste and a little caramel or prepared beef extract, to give the rich straw color of the bouillon, but not enough to give a noticeable flavor, and a shell of an egg carefully separated with water, and a small piece of butter, very cold water and the crushed shell and mix well. Turn this into the boiling soup, give one or two swirls with spoon, cover and let boil hard for ten minutes. Then add another half cup of cold water, boil five minutes longer and strain through several thicknesses of cheese cloth. Heat again before serving.

trouble with the private pension legislation. Congress allows pensions at higher rates, in cases where the claims are more vague, than the pension office is authorized to allow where the claims are perfectly clear. This is what we want the pension office of appeals for; we would have five judges appointed for life. They would recommend changes in the law which congress would readily enact, and with the law thus improved and codified, I believe they could put through from 500 to 1000 of the disputed cases a month. We have got to have in this country some more effective means of passing meritorious pension claims. I suppose the bill will fall now, but I am in hopes that by another year congress will look at the subject more broadly.

CAPE MORE SCANDAL.

The sentencing of Alexander McKenzie by the court of appeals at San Francisco to spend one year in jail for contempt of court, is the latest act which appears to have been a well-laid plot to capture some of the best payoffs in the United States. The secret history of the transactions and circumstances leading up to the legal proceedings would, if written, read like a romance, but that history will, perhaps, never be written, because it might injure men in high political office. Alexander McKenzie is a remarkable man—a man with little culture, but with superb brain power—a master of men and a creator of circumstances. He has for years been the political boss of North Dakota. Refusing political honors for himself, he has been the virtual dictator of his state. Men have acted only by his permission. He made his friend of old days, Hansbrough, senator, and when Rosenbach, his unknown associate, was sent to the senate by McKenzie. He has been the manager of the most perfect political machine in the United States.

With two men in the United States senate, the time came for McKenzie to utilize his power. The titles to certain properties at Nome were under a cloud. For the purpose of McKenzie, it mattered not who the equities were—all that he wanted was a claim on the property; this he got and the drama began. Years ago McKenzie, Hansbrough, Noyes and a man by the name of Stevens were interested in real estate in Grand Forks, N. D. McKenzie spent most of the winter at Washington, and in the spring his friend Noyes was appointed district judge at Cape Nome and his friend Stevens, from North Dakota, court commissioner. Upon arriving at Cape Nome the first official act of Judge Noyes was to confirm the appointment of Alexander McKenzie as receiver of properties paying $15,000 per week, on a $500 bond, McKenzie having been previously appointed by his friend, the court commissioner. The owners of the properties sought the aid of the court of appeals, and an order was issued requiring McKenzie and commanding him to turn over to the owners all money and gold dust in his possession. This he refused to do, and for this act he was the other day sentenced to serve one year in jail. In the meantime the original action has gone to the supreme court of the United States on a question of jurisdiction.

These are the main facts that have appeared in the proceedings. It may be that the appearance of a deliberate plot to seize a vast property is misleading. It may be that certain United States senators were not in the secret of the case, but that there was one, but the circumstantial evidence is strong in that direction. The proceedings were so high-handed that the court of appeals was led to say: "The circumstances attending the appointment of a receiver in these cases, however, and his conduct after that, as well as before the appointment, as shown by the record and evidence, so far from impressing us with the sincerity of the pretension that his refusal to obey the writs issued out of this court was based upon the advice of his counsel that they were void, and that it was intended to purge the deliberate, and in furtherance of the high-handed and grossly illegal proceedings inaugurated almost as soon as Judge Noyes and McKenzie set foot on Alaskan territory at Nome, and which may safely and fortunately be said to have taken place in the jurisdiction of this country."

The court evidently believes that Judge Noyes was in the scheme. How many more in high station could be implicated can only be guessed. An investigation might reveal the influences that were at work in pushing Noyes for the place. It is the duty of congress to purge the bench of unworthy judges, and Noyes seems to be a fit subject for an impartial inquiry.

CONSTITUTIONAL ULTIMATUM.

If current report be true, the president will ask congress to issue to Cuba a constitutional ultimatum. This ultimatum will name the conditions under which the United States will recall her troops from the island and allow the Cubans to go it alone. The pledge made to Cuba and the world will be abrogated so far as maintaining a suzerainty extends. Cuba will be compelled to repudiate the Spanish debt, to make no foreign treaties without the consent of the United States, to allow a naval station to grant full protection and citizenship to the Spanish contingent and to make other and sufficient guarantees for a stable government.

This position should have been foreseen. The safety of American interests cannot now be placed in the hands of this experimental republic. The Cubans are no doubt able to govern themselves, but the peculiar complications following the war and the change of status will embarrass the little republic to such an extent that should the United States let go the string now, it will have to be taken up again.

Spain loaded Cuba with $700,000,000 bonds to carry on the war of subjugation and pledged the revenues of the island. These bonds are held by Spanish and French citizens. Spain has repudiated the debt and left the creditors to their security. Already have they been working to get the United States to guarantee their payment. As there is no reason in equity or no rule of international law to constrain Cuba to assume and pay this enormous obligation of her mother country, the United States, as guardian of nature, naturally protests. Should, however, the United States wholly withdraw from the island, renouncing all political interest, what would there be to prevent the warships of France and Spain from entering Havana harbor and then and there demanding a formal acknowledgment of that debt? Could America resist? Without a warship, without an army, without credit, without a cent in its treasury, what could it do but yield or appeal to Uncle Sam for protection?

The object of the administration is to afford that protection now in the shape of a constitutional guarantee. An ounce of preventive is worth a pound of cure. Let the administration announce the same policy toward the Philippine islands and in thirty days there will not be an armed insurgent to fight. A protectorate over the islands is essential until they get on their national feet, and the quiet of the Philippine islands is nothing to us as a nation—the peace and quiet of Cuba is; that is the difference.

With a native government in the Philippines, the world could treat, because the people are much more stable and better educated than the Cubans, and the United States having bought the sovereignty of Spain, can give to them a clear title—a title without diplomatic incumbrances. Many people believe that the United States never received title to any part of the islands except the city of Manila and those posts actually held by the Spanish army. This is neither here nor there, so far as this article is concerned. Should the administration issue a proclamation, declaring independence under the restrictions above named, peace would follow.

It is possible that McKinley, like Saul of Tarsus, has seen a great light. Let us hope he has, and that he will be able to bring congress to see that light and thus bring this disgraceful war of conquest to an end.

An inquiry of the New York Sun its opinion as to the "justice, patriotism and fairness" of Mark Twain's North American Review article, gets this answer: "We are sorry to say that Mark is in a spree. Don't mention it. For the moment he is in a state of morose intoxication from an overdraught of seriousness, something to which his head has not been hardened. Wait, and welcome the prodigal as he comes home. He will be along again in time." It may be remembered, says the Springfield Republican, that a certain famous group of writers in Jerusalem were explained as "drunkards" by the moderns. And their overdraught of seriousness? Finally overturned the imperialistic world.

The Germans are claiming that, in spite of all our boasting, they are increasing their production of pig iron faster than the United States. This seems to be the fact, but it does not necessarily prove that Germany will soon reach and pass the United States in this production. The fact is that the German pig-iron syndicate at Düsseldorf thinks. The German output of pig-iron the past year was 8,551,725 tons, representing an increase of 25 per cent since 1890. The United States' output last year was 13,783,212 tons, representing an increase of 50 per cent since 1890.

The supreme court of New York has decided that a storehouse used for the storage of lumber and other odorous goods is not a nuisance, and an injunction asked by a neighbor who objected to the smell was refused. In a dissenting opinion on the matter one of the justices said: "The odor is not a nuisance, and the law is given a fair opportunity to spread itself, is overwhelming, and, unless the olfactory sense be educated to its liking, offensive odor is as great a nuisance as the odor of the human being." The man who lived next to the warehouse is certainly to be pitied.

Gossip of The Capital

Washington, Feb. 14.—(Special to The Herald).—An interesting story is going the rounds of the capital in connection with a dinner which, it is said, Representative Sprague of Massachusetts intends, or intended to give on Feb. 10. Mr. Sprague is noted as the richest man in the house—and occupies the former home of Vice President Morton. He has been a member of the committee on the District of Columbia since his entry to the house, and it would be to him some time ago that it would be a very nice thing to give a dinner to his associates on the committee. Accordingly, the members of the committee received an artistic invitation to a dinner on Feb. 10. Each member, familiar with the wealth and personality of Mr. Sprague, anticipating a most sumptuous feast, and that should accompany it, eagerly accepted the invitation. That is to say, all but Representative Okey of Virginia. One day following the announcement of the invitations, when the committee was in session, and Mr. Sprague was absent, Mr. Okey, it is said, was engaged in these personal contemplations, attending, "talking," and "to be sure" greeted him. Mr. Okey, however, the room he saw that the subject of the dinner was not to be held, and he said, he remarked that he would not attend. He was invited to the dinner, but he did not go. He was invited to the dinner, but he did not go. He was invited to the dinner, but he did not go.

After some discussion it was decided to postpone the dinner until Mr. Sprague was present. It is reported that Mr. Okey, however, the room he saw that the subject of the dinner was not to be held, and he said, he remarked that he would not attend. He was invited to the dinner, but he did not go. He was invited to the dinner, but he did not go. He was invited to the dinner, but he did not go.

It is possible that McKinley, like Saul of Tarsus, has seen a great light. Let us hope he has, and that he will be able to bring congress to see that light and thus bring this disgraceful war of conquest to an end.

An inquiry of the New York Sun its opinion as to the "justice, patriotism and fairness" of Mark Twain's North American Review article, gets this answer: "We are sorry to say that Mark is in a spree. Don't mention it. For the moment he is in a state of morose intoxication from an overdraught of seriousness, something to which his head has not been hardened. Wait, and welcome the prodigal as he comes home. He will be along again in time." It may be remembered, says the Springfield Republican, that a certain famous group of writers in Jerusalem were explained as "drunkards" by the moderns. And their overdraught of seriousness? Finally overturned the imperialistic world.

SAID IN FUN.

Pittsburgh Chronicle: "Tell me, Coling, why do you have so many lynchings in the south?" "I reckon, sir, it's because so few of the scoundrels manage to escape."

Philadelphia Record: They were looking through the library. "If you had a wife, sir, what would you rather write?" asked the rumbling young woman. "Checks," replied the stolid man.

Washington Star: "When you do something to a favor," said Uncle Eben, "don't forget to let me know. I'll be sure to let you know when I do."

Philadelphia Press: "That's a funny thing, Sockles's baby had the hiccups last night, and its mother gave it gin." "What's so funny about that?" "Well, different from Sockles's. He gets the hiccups after the gin."

Philadelphia Press: "Did you get much of that old party?" asked one highwayman of the other. "Not a bit," was the reply. "That's right. He was in the wrong doing at all is worth doing weekly."

Detroit Journal: "How breezy!" we exclaimed in unfeigned admiration, as the doctor, after a long and arduous day, came in. "Yes, sir, I have been raising the wind for hours!" sighed the tired girl, not untruthfully.

Detroit Journal: Tackles—I see the doctor has healed your wounds so that you can't get into any more trouble. "Half back—Wouldn't it jar you?" The average doctor is a man of no aesthetic sensibilities whatever.

Detroit Journal: Tenant—Why, what you call a spare bedroom isn't a room at all, it's a place where a man can go to sleep. "How could we get a bed in there?" "People mostly have a bed in there, but they don't use it."

Philadelphia Press: Miss Anteck—Yes, indeed, I'm proud to say that my girl-friend was a forty-niner. "Miss Sharp—How closely you resemble him now."

Will Be a Dead Letter. Philadelphia Ledger: The ease with which the navy department has secured the cooperation of making the proposed reserve attraction for the navy, is a very interesting feature. A service in which there is no hope of promotion or small pay, and where important obligations must be assumed is not calculated to commend itself to the average merchant.

Naval Reserve System. New Orleans Picayune: Unless the navy department can devise some means of making the proposed reserve attraction for the navy, it will be a very interesting feature. A service in which there is no hope of promotion or small pay, and where important obligations must be assumed is not calculated to commend itself to the average merchant.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS. The Kansas senate passed a bill designating places where liquor is sold as public houses, and a regular army now exists. A service in which there is no hope of promotion or small pay, and where important obligations must be assumed is not calculated to commend itself to the average merchant.

The general executive committee of the Confederate revolution has adopted resolutions with regard to the invitation to President McKinley to be present at the reunion which will be held in Memphis, Tenn., on the 22nd inst. The committee was not to participate in the reunion but to be a guest of the city.

Small pox was discovered in St. Michael's orphan asylum, La Crosse, Wis., on Feb. 10. The regular army now exists. A service in which there is no hope of promotion or small pay, and where important obligations must be assumed is not calculated to commend itself to the average merchant.

Thomas H. Seiter, of Memphis, Mo., has been indicted for the murder of a woman, after an eight-day trial at Blue Earth, Minn. The regular army now exists. A service in which there is no hope of promotion or small pay, and where important obligations must be assumed is not calculated to commend itself to the average merchant.

Margaret Daly, wife of the late Marcus Daly, is the chief shareholder in two bank and trust companies chartered at Helena, Mont. To take up the business of her husband in Butte and Helena, the new incorporation will be known as the Daly Bank and Trust company.

The president has sent the following nominations to the senate: Charles A. Bonelle, of Maine, to be captain; the retired list of the navy; Postmaster: Minnesota, H. S. Tucker, Lake Benton; C. S. Souding, Marquette; Wisconsin: David Dodge, Mazomanie.

WOMEN MUST SLEEP.

Women must sleep. If you are dangerously sick what is the first duty of your physician? He must get you to sleep. If he does not, the pain, and you sleep well.

Friends ask: "What is the cause?" and the answer comes in plying doses, nervous prostration. It is caused by you so quietly in the beginning, that you were not alarmed, and when sleep deserted you night after night until you were in a state of nervous prostration, then you tossed in nervous agony praying for sleep.

You ought to know that indigestion, exhaustion, womb displacements, fainting, dizziness, headache, and backache send the nerves wild with affliction, and you cannot sleep. Mrs. Hartley, of 221 W. Congress St., Chicago, Ill., whose portrait we publish, suffered all these agonies, and was entirely cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; her case should be a warning to others, and her cure carry conviction to the minds of every suffering woman.

THE DAKOTAS.

Blind Pigs at Harvey Closed After Several Arrests Were Made.

NORTH DAKOTA.
Harvey—The following parties were arrested Tuesday night by Sheriff St. Jacques and three deputies for running blind pigs: John Zoller, Bert Way, John Horgan and H. McGraw. The sheriff had a warrant also for Adel Lohmeyer, who escaped through the back door of his joint. This closes all blind pigs in Harvey light and the town will go dry.

Fargo—The damage suit for $10,000 of George Hubbard against M. R. Clancy, of Arneville, has been settled out of court. Hubbard charged Clancy with writing a letter stating that the plaintiff had attempted suicide by jumping into a well. Clancy apologized for writing the article, and the suit was dropped.

Walsh—The Retail Implement Dealers' association of North Dakota and Northern Minnesota will meet at Grand Forks, Feb. 19, 20 and 21, commencing with an evening session on Feb. 19.

Fargo—A notorious woman, known as "Scotch Nell," is doing time in the city jail as the result of a recent delinquency. She is said to have been on a drunk since early last fall when she went from Cavalier county with several hundred dollars and landed in East Grand Forks. Some charitable women are endeavoring to reform her.

Bismarck—The State Press association meeting closed Tuesday. The date for the regular annual meeting was set for the meeting to be held at Devil's Lake July 7 and 8.

Casselton—Tuesday night occurred the opening of our new and beautiful opera house, erected on the site of the big fire 2 years ago. The Opera House is 20 by 100 feet, with stores and postoffice on ground level and the opera house on stairs with splendid floor and gallery, supplied throughout with folding opera chairs, with seating capacity of 600.

Fargo—State veterinarian Dunham narrowly escaped serious injury and is confined to his home with an accident at the result of burns received from escaping gas, when he opened his furnace door. His eyebrows, mustache and part of his hair were singed but the flesh burns are not serious.

SOUTH DAKOTA.
Huron—East-bound freight train, No. 55, which left here over the North-Western, with two engines met with an accident at Lake Preston, five cars jumping the track, but doing no damage beyond the loss of a few hours' time.

Rapid City—The appointment of Senator George F. Bennett, of this city, to the position of register of the United States land office, is generally received with satisfaction by Rapid City and Black Hills people. The appointee is a prominent business man, being a member of the Consolidated Mercantile company. He is also an extensive owner of sheep. He expects to close out his mercantile business and turn over his live stock industry to his partner.

Scottland—The new telephone system is completed. It is proving a great success and will pay running expenses from the start.

Oradway—George Natzen is under arrest, charged with breaking into a schoolhouse and stealing a quantity of school supplies. A portion of the goods were found in his house.

Watertown—Columbia county is now entirely out of debt. Last December, all warrants on the poor and bridge funds were called in for payment, and now the county treasurer has called in all general fund warrants also.

Brookings—The dedication sermon of the new first Presbyterian church, was preached by Rev. R. V. Hunter, of Indianapolis. Several of the former pastors of the church were present and an interesting service was held, giving them, as well as others, a chance to compliment the society and the city for their energy and enterprise in completing and paying for such a magnificent structure. The church with all its appointments cost over $20,000.

Iron Mountain—A hot water tank in the Montgomery block exploded Friday afternoon, flooding the rear part of the building. No one was near the tank at the time of the accident, and the damage was confined to the meaning of plastering in the saloon below. The cause of the explosion is unknown.

Marquette—D. N. McLeod, of Newberry, and Terry Scanlan, of Bay Mills, were absent in Chicago on an important business mission last week. Mr. McLeod went down to buy seven miles of round and two carload of horses. He has taken a contract to log thirty millions of pine twelve miles east of Grand Marais.

The West Duluth Democrats all wore a broad smile this morning when they read the account in the morning paper of the likelihood of a recount in the Eighth ward, W. E. Kern proposing to contest the election of Mr. Swenson. The fact that the Democrats of the ward were taking steps to know just where some of the voters claiming to be Democrats actually stand gave rise to the rumor and because those interested had nothing to give out as to their progress, the Democrats say that the story was invented. They say the talk of illegal voting has no special significance, and that it is always easy to find people ready to tell of instances of illegal voting, but are not so ready to make affidavit to the same.

The West Duluth Democrats all wore a broad smile this morning when they read the account in the morning paper of the likelihood of a recount in the Eighth ward, W. E. Physicians By Means of Skeleton Show the Court How Blow Which Killed Day Was Delivered.

Important Testimony of Barbe, the Chicago Traveling Man, Which Seems to Practically Prove Hamilton's Innocence.

Minneapolis, Feb. 15.—The medical experts had the floor again this morning in the Hamilton-Day murder trial. Dr. Erdman, professor of anatomy of the University of Minnesota, by the aid of an articulated skeleton, and also using one of the state's attorneys for illustration, showed how, in his opinion, the fatal knife thrust was delivered from behind Day, and how, with the sharp edge of the blade towards the back of the murdered man's body, a piece of bone was chipped out of a rib. The state's attorney, aided by other medical experts, put them through a rigid cross-examination, but failed to shake him in his deposition. Standing before the jury, he pointed out the location of the sub-clavian artery, which was severed, and the sub-clavian vein, which was partly severed, and the lung cavity, into which the knife penetrated about an inch.

Dr. George E. Hicker testified as to the bruises on Hamilton's head after the affray, and said they might have been caused by a blow with some instrument. A. J. Fegler, a reporter, gave similar testimony.

Paul Cyclopedia, another reporter, who covered the affair for the Times, testified that during all the time he was at the West Hamilton made no confession, nor did he say anything about the matter. He admitted that he was not in hearing distance of Hamilton all the while.

Dr. J. L. Stone, Hamilton's physician, testified that he attended the defendant at the lockup the next morning. He found contusions on the prisoner's head, one on the forehead, near the hair line, and another just above the eyebrow, and said that he had a bloody handkerchief, which was used on his head to stop the bleeding. The doctor was not allowed to define what effect such a blow would have on his mental condition.

Day L. Evans, recalled, was asked whether he had seen a pair of trousers containing a bloody handkerchief, to a cleaning and repairing establishment. He did not know whether he had or not, but if so they were not the ones he had on that night at the West hotel. He explained that he had a bloody handkerchief, which was used on his head to stop the bleeding. The doctor was not allowed to define what effect such a blow would have on his mental condition.

The defense then announced that it was going to present a pair of trousers, containing a bloody handkerchief, to a cleaning and repairing establishment. He did not know whether he had or not, but if so they were not the ones he had on that night at the West hotel. He explained that he had a bloody handkerchief, which was used on his head to stop the bleeding. The doctor was not allowed to define what effect such a blow would have on his mental condition.

The testimony of A. M. Barbe, the Chicago traveling man, was a sensation of yesterday afternoon, and his testimony fell like a bombshell into the camp of the state. The witness declared that the defense not the state, had brought him to Minneapolis, and that he had seen a pair of trousers containing a bloody handkerchief, to a cleaning and repairing establishment. He did not know whether he had or not, but if so they were not the ones he had on that night at the West hotel. He explained that he had a bloody handkerchief, which was used on his head to stop the bleeding. The doctor was not allowed to define what effect such a blow would have on his mental condition.

He produced both his subpoena and the telegram from the state, and he received any further word from the state. When it became apparent, after the beginning of the case, that Barbe was not in Minneapolis, and that beyond him brought to Minneapolis, attorneys Nye and Penney, who had been searching for him, through the assistance of W. G. Bennett, who knew of his whereabouts in Chicago, and had difficulty in persuading him to come at once to this city and tell what he knows about the West hotel mystery. The defense was rather surprised, in fact, to learn that Mr. Barbe had no particular objection to coming here—that he really wanted to testify in order that justice might be done.

Mr. Barbe tells why he did not readily respond to the subpoena. His statement is sensational in an extraordinary degree. "The state's attorneys wired me not to come," is his startling explanation. Mr. Barbe was quietly spirited into Minneapolis Wednesday, and has been under cover from the moment of his arrival up to his dramatic appearance. It was a complete surprise to the state. Barbe's testimony is of the utmost importance to the defense. He is the man who swore at the coroner's inquest that there appeared to be a mixed fight, that twenty men were huddled together in the room, and that out of their midst staggered Day and fell into his (Barbe's) arms.

Barbe's testimony will be of peculiar weight with the jury, because, according to the testimony of different witnesses already examined, he is the one man who played an important part in the tragedy before the arrival of the physicians or officers, who was not more or less under the influence of liquor.

Barbe testified as follows: "I was in Minneapolis on Nov. 25 of last year. I stopped at the West hotel. I was excited Sunday at the coroner's inquest. The evening before I was at the theater. Returned to the hotel between 1:30 and 2 o'clock with Bennett. I went into the billiard room about 1:45. I had been introduced to Day only."

"How many men were there in the room?"

"About ten or twelve."

"What was the condition of the crowd?"

"Well, from outward appearance they seemed to be pretty jolly. There was an argument going on between Hamilton and Day. He told the crowd to get the combatants apart. I got hold of Bennett's leg and he told me to get out of the room. Then it was quiet for a minute. Then there was another scuffle. I noticed Hamilton there and then I started out with the crowd. I returned and found Bennett there. Bennett said Day was still living."

Witness then described his efforts to make Day comfortable. It was thirty-five minutes before the doctor arrived. Witness saw "quite a portion" of the crowd scuffling.

"What finally fell he fell out from a crowd of men?"

"Yes, sir. There was a great deal of confusion."

Witness next told of O'Malley's finding the knife and of taking possession of it. He also told of the general fight offered by Hamilton and Bennett over Day's body while it was still on the floor.

WAS DROWNED.

Well Known Wisconsin Soldier Perished That Way Near Manila.

New Richmond, Wis., Feb. 15.—C. A. Gustafson, of Star Prairie, has just received news of the death by drowning near Manila of his son August, which occurred last June. Notice of death was sent out by the war department, addressed to this city instead of Star Prairie. The anxious father, receiving no tidings of his son, wrote direct to President McKinley. The president made prompt reply, with all particulars that was reported to the war department. He was well known in Wisconsin militia circles, having served through the Porto Rican campaign in the Third Wisconsin.

Mr. Pierce was born at Springfield, N. Y., served in the army and towards the close of the war was appointed as inspector of the quartermaster department. He retired with the rank of colonel. He settled in Indiana after he left the army and made a reputation as the editor of a paper at Valparaiso. He was elected to the legislature as a Republican, and was back again in the editorial chair in 1872, when Mr. Halford, the private secretary of President Harrison, started the Chicago Inter-Ocean. Halford wrote Pierce, and asked him to write him some editorial. The future senator complied, and these editorials soon began to attract attention. One of them was a powerful article of the anti-theft order, comparing Grant and Greeley, and showing that Grant was great with his sword, so Greeley was equally great with his pen. This article attracted the attention of Mr. Scammon, the proprietor of the Inter-Ocean. He came into the office and asked who wrote it, and at once suggested that Mr. Pierce be brought to Cincinnati, Ohio, Feb. 15.—Twenty-nine persons were injured today in the derailment of a trolley car en route from Dayton, Ky., to this city. It is feared several of the injured will die, although the physicians who were summoned have not yet been able to classify the injured. Only one of the thirty passengers aboard the car escaped unhurt.

An obstruction of some unknown nature derailed the car as it rounded a curve along the bank of a small stream on the Kentucky side of the Ohio river. The car plunged across the sidewalk, carried away a railing, toppled and rolled over the embankment to the bed of the stream fifty feet below. A partial list of the injured follows:

Motorman Samuel Yates, injured about the head and internally, probably will die; W. H. McCormick, Bellevue; Miss Edna Contans, Bellevue; William Spencer, Dayton, Ky.; A. H. Wagner, Bellevue; Miss Ella Huxar, Westwood, Ohio.

A majority of the injured were severely cut and bruised. Miss Contans, William Spencer and Miss Huxar sustained internal injuries, however, and are in a serious condition.

Motorman Yates held the controller until the car struck the bottom of the incline, in a vain effort to check its fall. Miss Emma Hampton was the only passenger uninjured. She was prostrated from the shock when taken from the wreckage.

EX-SENATOR PIERCE DEAD

Former Governor of the Territory of Dakota and United States Senator From North Dakota Passes Away.

Chicago, Feb. 15.—Gilbert A. Pierce, formerly United States senator from North Dakota, and in 1883 territorial governor of Dakota, died at his apartment in the Lexington hotel, after a long illness. He was 65 years of age.

"Old" Pierce, as he was familiarly known, was tall and fine looking, weighed 200 pounds, when he was a member of the senate, but ill health in recent years had detracted from his appearance. He had a big head, the forehead of which, through the ravages of time, was fast creeping up to his crown. His features were clear cut, his nose was aquiline, and under it there was a sandy moustache and goatee. He was quick in action, had a good address and was a thorough man of the world. He was a man of pronounced ability and had a life that was full of romance.

Mr. Pierce was born at Springfield, N. Y., served in the army and towards the close of the war was appointed as inspector of the quartermaster department. He retired with the rank of colonel. He settled in Indiana after he left the army and made a reputation as the editor of a paper at Valparaiso. THEIR LOSS IS A HEAVY ONE

Directors of Saengerfest With Pugilists and Managers Mourn the Expense Caused By Injunction Against Jeffries-Ruhlin Mill.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Feb. 15.—Saengerfest hall had a deserted appearance today, and the Saengerfest are now mourning the further expenditure, recently, of $50,000 more for remodeling the hall, erecting a ring, putting up air lights, private boxes and seats for 15,000 persons who were expected to view the Jeffries-Ruhlin fight, stopped yesterday by order of Judge Hollister, in the instance of a permanent injunction.

Conferences were held today between members of the Saengerfest Athletic association, counsel and managers Brady, Madden, Cook and others. Late this afternoon all will get together for a joint conference over the settlement of losses and a future course of action. In addition to the money spent on the hall, there is a matter of $2500 forfeit with each of the principles in the abandoned contest to be adjusted. Six leading law firms who carried on the case of the promoters before Judge Hollister are to be paid, and the question of settling further expense will enter largely into the matter of whether or not an appeal from Judge Hollister's decision shall be carried to the higher courts.

Managers Brady and Madden estimate their losses in prospective receipts for theatrical engagements cancelled in view of the fight at $18,000 and $10,000 each. Today they expressed themselves as being against any "sure things" in the future. All efforts today were directed towards getting out the tangle with as little further expense as possible. The Jeffries-Ruhlin fight, which was to have taken place in Cincinnati tonight, it was announced today that he is determined there shall be no more prize fights in Ohio during his administration. Within a few days he will advise the sheriff of every county and the mayor of every county and town that the laws of the state forbid prize fighting, and they must be obeyed.

Ohio laws governing prize fighting are somewhat difficult of interpretation. The distinction between a prize fight and a sparring exhibition is not very clearly drawn. However, the governor declares that boxing matches in Ohio during the remainder of his administration will be confined to sparring contests between bonafide members of bonafide athletic clubs. The governor will use all the power of the state, if need be, to prevent the other kind and boxing gloves of five ounces or less will be a drug on the market.

Had troops been sent to Cincinnati, it is declared, there would have been an exhibition of quick mobilization never before equalled in Ohio. Arrangements had been perfected for sending four regiments and a battery. Governor Nash intended going to the front and taking personal command.

Ohio laws governing prize fighting are somewhat difficult of interpretation. The distinction between a prize fight and a sparring exhibition is not very clearly drawn. However, the governor declares that boxing matches in Ohio during the remainder of his administration will be confined to sparring contests between bonafide members of bonafide athletic clubs. The governor will use all the power of the state, if need be, to prevent the other kind and boxing gloves of five ounces or less will be a drug on the market.

Had troops been sent to Cincinnati, it is declared, there would have been an exhibition of quick mobilization never before equalled in Ohio. Arrangements had been perfected for sending four regiments and a battery. Governor Nash intended going to the front and taking personal command.

MAURICE THOMPSON GONE

Well Known Novelist Dies After Long Illness.

Crawfordsville, Ind., Feb. 15.—Maurice Thompson, the novelist, died at 3:25 a. m. today, after an illness of many weeks. He had been kept alive several days by the use of stimulants. Mr. Thompson became unconscious about 9:30 o'clock last night and passed away without a sign of pain. All the members of his family were at the bedside. It is thought the funeral will be held here Monday.

Maurice Thompson was born in Fairfield, Ind., on Sept. 9, 1854. His parents, who were Southerners, removed to Kentucky, and thence to the hill region of Northern Georgia. The son was educated in the state of Georgia, and early became interested in the study of outdoor life. He served through the civil war in the Confederate army, and at its close went to Indiana, because a civil engineer on a railway survey, and in due season rose to be chief engineer. He then studied law and opened an office at Crawfordsville. He was elected in 1879 to the legislature, and appointed in 1885 state geologist of Indiana and chief of the department of natural history. He has written many books, his latest and most successful being "Alice of Old Vincennes," which has attained great popularity. His first published work in book form was "Hoosier Males," issued in 1875. Three years later he published "The Witchery of Archery," and during the '80s "A Tallahassee Girl," "His Second Campaign," "Songs of Fair Weather," "At Love's Extremes," "Byways and Bird Notes," "The Boy's Book of Sports," "A Banker of Bankersville," "Sylvia," "The Story of Louisiana" and "A Fort night of Polly." It was while writing histories of Indiana and Louisiana that he encountered the material that formed the basis of the story of "Alice of Old Vincennes." Only a few days ago announcements were made by three different publishing firms of forthcoming novels from his pen to be issued this spring: "Mills," "Sweetheart Manette," "The King of Honey Island"—one at least of these titles has a faint sound. It is probable that all three are early works of the author, which owe their rescue to the success of "Alice of Old Vincennes."

The Evening Post says: William Nelson Cromwell, one of the lawyers concerned in the negotiations in the steel combination, said today that counsel for the several companies included were working almost night and day on the terms of the pending deal, and that it was impossible to say when their work would be finished. The meeting yesterday was not a special conference. Francis Lynde Bixson and other lawyers connected with this matter are working together almost constantly.

According to reports early in the week, an official statement of the progress of deal was to be issued today. Nothing of the sort was forthcoming, either at the offices of P. Morgan & Co. or at the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co. Statements similar to that of Mr. Cromwell have given the impression that nothing much is to be expected until next week.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 15.—The Pittsburgh Leader will say this afternoon that from a reliable source it is learned that the Carnegie deal will be closed today. The payment to Mr. Carnegie of $22,500,000 will be made in cash. In addition to the per share for his stock and will be paid in bonds. The minority stockholders will be paid in cash. The new company receiving 100 per cent each of the common and preferred shares. The same authority says the officials of the other companies are not so sure of the deal. The syndicate will determine whether these the basis upon which they will be charged with malicious trespass, assault, and battery in connection with the arrest of plaintiff, Judge Wm. Acheson, in

BONDS ARE HERE

Mayor Is Signing Them and City Will Soon Have the Cash.

Mayor Hugo was busily engaged in signing his name to the $20,000 worth of permanent improvement revolving fund bonds today. This issue was received from the Illinois State Bank and will be forwarded at once to the National Bank of the Republic, of Boston, and it is expected that within a week the city will have nearly $20,000 cash to its credit as the result of this sale. The issue was awarded to the Commercial Investment company of this city, but on good authority it is said that the firm of E. H. Gray & Co., of Boston, which is so heavily interested in Duluth bonds, will look after the issue. As soon as the cash is in the fund the revolving fund bonds will be taken up and possible steps will be taken to have Superior street paved, between Eighth avenue west and Second avenue east.

POULTRY JUDGED

Judge Holden Looks Over the Show and Makes His Awards.

HOLLISTER IS IN IT

He Wins Prizes, But G. Hood Thompson Takes the Chief Plum.

Judge Holden closed his work of judging the poultry and pet stock at the poultry exhibit at 321 West First street Thursday. The cards showing the winners are now on the coops, so that parties visiting the show can see which were the winners.

G. Hood Thompson, of Glen Avon, had the honor of showing the highest scoring bird, 934, on silver grey Dorkings. He also won out by two points on the ten highest scoring birds in the show.

Theodore Hollister, of Lakeside, won all the prizes offered on light Brahmas, except second on cock, won by H. A. Nelson, of Duluth, and second on cockerel, that went to Crab & Dill, of Fargo, N. D. The highest scoring cockerel in the light Brahma class was 934, highest scoring pullet the same. The heaviest bird shown was the light Brahma cock, "Northland," thirteen pounds.

In barred Plymouth rocks, first premium on cockerel was won by Crab & Dill, of Fargo, second cockerel, by L. D. Caniff, of Fargo, N. D. He also won first premium on pullet, John B. Greenfield took everything else in sight in this class, including display and best breeding pens.

H. C. Bellingor, of Lakeside, made a clean sweep of the light Brahma class. The competition for premiums on white Plymouth rocks was close between Benjamin Wood, of Duluth Heights, and A. B. Witte, of Hunter's Park. Mr. Wood got slightly the best of the contest.

In the silver laced Wyandotte class, George W. Smith, of Duluth, had everything his own way, a clean sweep of cockerels and pullets, and C. W. Stewart, of Duluth, got the premiums on the cock and hen.

Black Javas, Benjamin Wood won out. In the Houdan class, A. F. Gastfield had everything his own way.

The black Minorca class was quite well represented. Ole Becklund taking first premium and John H. Norton, president of the association, second. This is John's first year. He says with best of the officials, that the black Minorcas that can outrun, outlay and whip anything at the head of the class.

G. Hood Thompson came to the front again with white Minorcas, and took all the premiums. There was considerable good-natured rivalry between John C. Green and H. A. Nelson, on buff Leghorns. John Green's chickens got under the wire, but only a neck ahead of H. A. Nelson's.

Green says that the fact that his cock held eggs to Nelson. He has registered a vote never to do it again. H. A. Nelson, of Lakeside, made a good showing of brown Leghorns. Nelson got the best of it.

There was a good deal of partridge cocking shown, exhibited by C. W. Stewart, of West Duluth. They were very much admired for the fine lacy markings and the fact that they were so tame and docile, the cock having met an untimely death when being brought in to the show by some accident. There is no escape on the coop, but the widowhood of these fowls is plainly shown in their countenances.

The bantam class Max Clemens won. The egg laid by the hen, but the show will probably be too short for results. There is a fine display of carrier pigeons, blue owls and falcons.

Walter L. Seaton, E. H. Holden and Alex. Schell, of Duluth, exhibited a pair of geese, one of which was a fine specimen of a pair of geese, one of which was a fine specimen of a pair of geese, one of which was a fine specimen of a pair of geese.

Albertson's parent has learned to cry, and the game parent in the next cage, he aggravates her very much. The couple are a fine specimen of a pair of geese, one of which was a fine specimen of a pair of geese, one of which was a fine specimen of a pair of geese.

There is also a fine specimen of a pair of geese, one of which was a fine specimen of a pair of geese, one of which was a fine specimen of a pair of geese, one of which was a fine specimen of a pair of geese.

The fifth annual exhibit of the Duluth Poultry association has proven to be the most successful ever attempted, there being the largest number and greatest variety of birds shown in Duluth.

The interest taken by Duluth residents is producing good results. It had been expected to close the show Friday night, but owing to the large attendance, it was decided by the management to continue the exhibit until Saturday night, at 10 o'clock, to give the children that have been attending school during the week an opportunity to see the birds, rabbits and other pets.

Attendance for children has been reduced to 10 cents, to give them all a chance.

To Cure the Grip in Two Days. Laxative Bromo-Quinine removes the cause. This is the season when mothers are alarmed on account of their children. It is quick cured by One Minute Cough Cure, which children like to take. Max Werth.

Union Meetings. The Bethels will hold union meetings next Sunday, morning at 10 o'clock and evening at 7:30, to celebrate the eighth anniversary of the present superintendent's connection with the Bethels.

The speakers will be Superintendent Robert and Evangelist John Callahan. If young ladies think sores, pimples and red noses look well with a bridal veil and orange blossoms, it's all right. Yet Rocky Mountain Tea would drive them away. 35 cents. Ask your druggist.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out. Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or getting indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. It stains your linen if it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also derange out of order.

What To Do. There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, cures every ailment in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and stinging pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cure of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail.

Report of Buying By Calumet & Hecla People in Wisconsin Denied.

The speculators that have in the past few weeks made a grand rush to the land office to file claims on Douglas county copper lands, on the published report that the Calumet & Hecla people and the New England Development companies have completed, or else are negotiating large deals for copper properties in Douglas and Bayfield counties, Wis., will very likely be disappointed to learn that thus far these large mining companies have had nothing to do with any such deals, despite the published alleged interviews with the Agassiz's, in which the latter have been quoted as predicting great things of Douglas county mines. The Boston Transcript, of Tuesday, bestows the following hard knock to the stories afloat:

"Western papers are just now devoting space to describing large enterprises undertaken in Northwestern Wisconsin, having for their end the development of extensive copper-bearing lands, which, it is alleged, have been bought by Agassiz's. Accounts are given in detail of work either contemplated or underway, involving the expenditure of large sums, which, it is said, are being furnished by the Calumet & Hecla Mining company and the New England Development company, both of which are represented as having recently bought large tracts of land in the territory named. The interesting part of these stories, to the psychologist and the business man, is that the latter have been quoted as predicting great things of Douglas county mines. HONOR MAJ. C. B. SEARS

Business Men of Duluth Tender Him a Banquet and Present to Him a Handsome Loving Cup.

As a mark of their appreciation of the invaluable work that Maj. Clinton B. Sears has done for the business interests of Duluth during his administration here as engineer in charge of the Duluth district, the business men of the city last evening tendered him a banquet and presented him with a handsome loving cup.

It was an occasion of good fellowship and the felicitations extended to the guest of the evening were warm and sincere and with each guest there was a feeling that Duluth is about to lose a man who has appreciated the importance of the harbor, over which he has had charge and that though leaving he has left his soul and body stamped upon the development of the great community at the head of the lakes.

The banquet was held at the Kitchen Club and began shortly after 8 o'clock. The guests numbered about fifty. Seated at the tables were: Mayor T. W. Huzo, A. H. Comstock, C. H. Graves, S. E. Hartley, George Spencer, North Marshall, W. B. Cross, E. A. Cokelair, A. W. Walker, J. P. Johnson, E. N. Bradley, O. H. Simonds, J. L. Grestinger, George H. Crosby, Ray T. Lewis, J. H. Darling, J. A. Ferguson, H. C. Marshall, A. W. Hartman, J. D. Howard, Maj. C. B. Sears, C. A. Condon, and M. L. Dannel.

The serving of the menu occupied something more than an hour. As the cigars were brought forward Mayor T. W. Huzo, who officiated as toastmaster, introduced O. H. Simonds as the first speaker and invited him to talk on "The Harbor."

Mr. Simonds ran over briefly the theory as to the formation of Minnesota Point by the action of the current of the St. Louis river and the waves of the lake. From that he passed to the springing up of the two cities at the head of the lakes and of the digging of the canal by the Duluth people when they found it was necessary to do something to compete with the port of Superior. Events following that were sketched briefly, finally leading up to the creation of a harbor commission by the two cities. This was composed of business men of the two cities. They formulated a plan and went before the board of engineers that had been appointed to formulate a project for the improvement of the harbor at the head of the lakes. Maj. Sears had then been here but a short time and Mr. Simonds remarked facetiously that the citizens hardly considered that they had realized the necessities of this great harbor and the tremendous commerce which was to find its outlet here.

They presented their map and told what they thought ought to be done and when they finished Maj. Sears said quietly that he had prepared a map himself and unfolded a project that was far ahead of anything the members of the committee had conceived that they folded up their map, endorsed his and were afraid that the engineers might accept theirs instead of that of Maj. Sears.

"Since the coming here of Maj. Sears," said Mr. Simonds, "the history of the harbor has been such that the responsibility of the undertaking has been taken off their shoulders." In conclusion he wished him success and good fortune in his undertaking and the entire assembly arose and drank the toast.

The guest of the evening, Maj. Sears, then introduced. He gave a brief resume of his coming here, the work that had been done and his appreciation of the acknowledgment then being made by the citizens.

"In 1892 I was stationed near New York as instructor in one of the government military schools and, having been advanced in rank, I was doing a favor, that he had decided to send me to Duluth. I did not know as much then as I do now of Duluth and I must have looked my disappointment, for he added: 'I am going to put the Portage Lake Ship canal in your district. I scarcely knew where the Portage Lake ship canal was and I felt that I was being made a martyr.' I was relieved to find a junior officer who had retired to me at West Point, had not been here long, however, when I realized that I had made a mistake; that this was to be the center of a great commercial empire.

"There were three things working against the prosperity of the harbor. First, the rivalry between the two places which had made them pull against each other; second, the appropriation of small quantities of money at different times, to be used in little bits here and there; and third, the lack of accurate statistics showing the commerce done at the port.

"It took just a little touch of soft soldier to make the people realize that the whole head of the lakes should be treated as one harbor, and to get the appropriations made for one harbor, so that every time one place got a shovel-ful of dirt moved the other should not be scrambling for a shovel-ful, too, for fear that one would get an advantage. It was gratifying to me to find that I was not opposed in this. I considered it as a compliment, for it showed that the people had confidence in my judgment and impartiality.

"Before the government took hold of the harbor at the head of the lakes there was an average depth of water of eight feet. Today there is over twenty feet of water in the channels, though not all are finished as to widths. That is a gain of twelve feet. It is recognized that every foot of depth over a bar or in a harbor gives a commercial advantage proportional to the cube of the gain. Therefore, as twelve feet has been gained in this harbor since the government took hold of it, the advantage gained has been 1728-fold. (Applause.)

In 1892, when I came here, there was a partial depth of sixteen feet, though much was only fourteen feet. Today it is twenty feet, a gain of at least four feet. Cuba then and it shows that commerce has sixty-four times the advantage that it had then. (Applause.)

"I think you all have heard me give you an idea of the great increase in the business done here. In 1892, 348 vessels arrived and departed here, carrying a total tonnage of 3,500,000 tons. Last year the arrivals and departures numbered 723 and the tonnage was more than 9,000,000 tons. The whole harbor saw 11,245 vessels arrive and depart, carrying more than 14,000,000 tons, with a valuation of about $17,000,000.

"I am now going to shock the majority's modesty," said he, "by relating to you something of his early career as a lieutenant in the army. It was Clinton B. Sears, he was promoted until finally he became colonel. In the battle of Vicksburg, in 1863, he carried the colors of his company. The man to the right of him was shot, the bullet passing between the arm and body of young Sears. Then a ball hit the flagstaff and shattered it.

"The young Sears picked up the short staff and still carried the colors to victory. (Applause.) The young man's heroism attracted the attention of Gen. Sherman, and when the opportunity came to him to recommend a young man to West Point, he named Clinton B. Sears, not, however, until he had given him an examination of his fitness. At West Point he graduated third in a large class. (Applause.) Gen. Sherman wrote to him regularly and followed his career closely. Just before one of his large battles in the Southern campaign he wrote young Sears a three-page letter. The high rank which he attained in his class at West Point made him eligible to the engineer corps, and he entered that branch."

Col. Graves then referred to his own connection with the regular army, covering a period of five years after the war, and he declared the idea of having the regular army in continued service was only the volunteer in continued service. He said that the regular army was the only volunteer in continued service. He said that the regular army was the only volunteer in continued service. He said that the regular army was the only volunteer in continued service.

Chester A. Condon said the review which Maj. Sears had given had recalled to him a conversation that once took place while an important deal, afterward consummated, was pending. One man leaned over to him and said:

"SWEET" EATERS.

Way to Corroed Children's Taste.

Sometimes children become willful and refuse nourishing food, demanding to do anything without being directed by the secretary of war—under which I could require masters of vessels to report their cargoes, I put this in force, and though it met with some opposition at first, for the average vessel master would rather work all day at labor than write for ten minutes, for the last five or six years there has not been a vessel entering or leaving the harbor that has not reported its passengers and cargo. I saw at once that it was important for congress to know just what the commerce was. When I went to Washington at the request of Maj. Sears, what it brought in and what it took away. It was a great object lesson. The figures were accurate and could not be combated. There was no padding; they were accurate in every way, and they did much, together with the efforts of the citizens, to get the continuous appropriation. With that settled, we were put on a secure basis, and the development of the harbor, which has now reached a fine stage, was the result of that work.

AGAIN IT IS HANSON.

Minneapolis Man Re-Elected President of Retail Grocers. Stillwater, Minn., Feb. 15.—The state convention of retail grocers re-elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

President, P. G. Hanson, Minneapolis; first vice president, Simon Clark, Duluth; second vice president, George O. Hassell, Stillwater; treasurer, C. T. Hus, St. Paul; attorney, Joseph H. Beck, St. Paul; secretary, Frederick Mason, St. Paul.

Directors, one from each congressional district: First district, A. W. Kingsbury, Winona; Second, F. H. Enright, New Ulm; Third, E. H. Sherman, Red Wing; Fourth, A. J. Birmingham, St. Paul; Fifth, O. P. Holman, Minneapolis; Sixth, W. B. Logan, Duluth; Seventh, A. S. Paulson, Hennepin.

Two candidates for secretary were placed in nomination, J. H. Tennoorde, of Minneapolis, and Frederick Mason, of St. Paul. Mr. Tennoorde stated that he had declined to be a candidate and meant it. He did not want his name considered, and Mr. Mason's election, like the rest of the list, was made by acclamation.

Farbault was chosen as the next place of meeting, the date to be named by the executive committee.

The executive committee was instructed to place a state organizer in the field.

WEYERHAEUSER DEALS AGAIN.

Tacoma, Wash., Feb. 15.—A gigantic deal is being attempted by the Weyerhaeuser syndicate, which has acquired all of the Northern Pacific Washington timber lands. The syndicate now has inspectors going over every foot of property belonging to the state, with the intention of purchasing it. According to Senator Welby, these lands will be worth in 1921, $150,000,000.

La Grippe Quickly Cured.

"In the winter of 1898 and 1899 I was taken down with a severe attack of what is called la grippe," says F. L. Hewitt, a prominent druggist of Winfield, Ill. "The only medicine I used was two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It broke up the cold and stopped the coughing like magic, and I have never since been troubled with grippe."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy can always be depended upon to break up a severe cold and ward off any threatened attack of pneumonia. It is pleasant to take, too, which makes it the most desirable and one of the most popular preparations in use for these ailments. For sale at Boyce's Drug store.

WANTED TO RUN COURT

Topoka Judge Has to Call Mrs. Nation Down Most Emphatically.

OLD LADY WAS LATE

Finished Her Dinner Leisurely Before Attending Session of the Court.

Topoka, Feb. 15.—Mrs. Carrie Nation was brought to trial in the city court here yesterday afternoon on a charge of destroying property. The complainant was W. F. Lytle, proprietor of the Senate saloon, which Mrs. Nation and her crusaders wrecked last week. The room was crowded with visitors, many of them sympathizers with the crusaders. The case was finally postponed till Monday next.

When court opened Mrs. Nation was not to be found. Her lawyer, J. M. Dumenil, was rather excited, but assured the court that his client would be on hand very soon. Judge McCabe said he was ready to take up the case and that it must proceed. Rev. E. W. Emerson volunteered the information that Mrs. Nation had gone out to dinner and would be back soon. Assistant County Attorney Jamieson, who has charge of the prosecution, announced that he would wait a few minutes, and in the meantime would call his witnesses, Mike Kelly, "Sheep" Lytle, Henry Jackson, Ben Mulholland and George Stambough.

For the defense, Probate Judge Pasan, Chief of Police Stahl, Officer Carpenter, Mrs. James White, Mrs. George Wolverton and Miss Madeline Sothard appeared.

Mrs. Nation's attorney entered a motion to quash. At 2:15 o'clock Mrs. Nation entered and made her way through the crowd. The crowd applauded. Mrs. Nation smiled and bowed, but said not a word. The crowd continued to applaud, and Judge McCabe demanded order and called upon the marshal to preserve quiet. Lawyer Dumenil argued his motion to quash on the ground that the complaint was not properly drawn. Mrs. Nation could keep quiet no longer and rose to her feet. "You honor," commenced Mrs. Nation.

"But that does not make any difference," continued Mrs. Nation. "You will have to keep still," said the court. "This trial will be conducted like any other case, and quiet must be maintained. The marshal will keep order over the motion. Do you plead guilty or not guilty?"

"Not guilty," said Mrs. Nation's attorney. W. J. Jamieson, assistant county attorney, a negro lawyer, prosecuted Mrs. Nation.

Mike Kelly, one of the proprietors of the Senate, was the first witness. "What did you own of the property which was broken?" asked Jamieson. "I own a saloon," replied Kelly, "and I own glasses." "Was Kelly's answer?"

"Yes, you know that the property was broken on Feb. 5?"

"Yes, it was all broken up."

"When did you see it?"

"In the morning."

"How did you find it?"

"I found it all broken and scattered around the room when I came in."

"Who owned this property?" asked Mrs. Nation's attorney.

"I own it," replied Kelly.

"Were you and Lytle in peaceable possession of this property?"

"Yes, sir."

Mrs. Nation put her hands over her mouth and tried to suppress a laugh.

The humor of the situation took hold of her. Kelly looked down at her with a drool look that shook her severely.

LOVE GOD AND MAN.

Pope Leo's Encyclical Letter on Christian Democracy.

New York, Feb. 15.—First copies of the recent encyclical letter of Pope Leo XIII. issued the latter part of January, have been received in this city. The document says in part:

Economical disputes in more than one country have long been raging; peace and concord are affected; the violence of the passions grows ever day, insomuch that the thoughts of the wisest part are alarmed and appalled by the prospect of these disputes arising in the first instance from widespread philosophical and moral error. The scientific resources belonging to the age, increased facilities of communication and appliances of all kinds for economizing labor, making it more productive, have all conspired to create a struggle for existence. Through the influence of agitators the gulf between rich and poor has been widened to such a degree that the disturbances arising, even great calamities seem impending, such as would bring ruin on a country.

What social democracy means, and what Christian ought to mean, does not surely admit of doubt. The former, more or less extreme, as the case may be, is by many carried to such extravagance of wickedness as to reckon human satisfaction supreme and to pursue bodily goods and make the happiness of man consist in attaining and enjoying them. Hence they would have the supreme power in a state to be in the hands of common people, in such sort that all deduction of rank being abolished and every citizen made equal to every other, all might have equal access also to the good things of life. The law of lordship is to be abolished, private fortunes confiscated and even socialism of the appliances of labor carried out.

But Christian democracy, as Christian, ought to have as its foundation, the principles laid down by divine faith, namely, that the temporal advantage of the lower orders, but designating the wealth of the state, is to be preferred to the enjoyment of things eternal. According to this Christian principle, the law is to be nothing more than law and right; let it be the right of having and holding he kept inviolate, let it maintain the diversity of ranks which properly belong to a well-ordered state; in fine, let it prefer for human association that form and character which its divine author has imposed.

Clearly, therefore, social and Christian democracy can have nothing in common the difference between them is no less than that between the secularism of

 "I saw Hamilton between 11 and 12 o'clock. He asked me if I was 'up,' meaning if I was through work. I went over to Starr's saloon and met him. Hamilton was drinking. Canfield told how Evans, Gary and Hamilton finally went to the West. "We were all feeling good and jolly. Evans and Hamilton went into the billiard room. Gary and myself went to the Dutch room. Two unknown Italians and John Berdier. They were blown to atoms. Gilmore Anderson had both legs blown off and will die. Three others are said to have been seriously injured. It is said the explosion was caused by an attempt to burn several sticks of dynamite."

"I heard Day say to Hamilton: 'I heard you said I was a cat.' Hamilton answered: 'Yes, and now that I see you, I'm sure of it.' I heard no more words. They sank partially to the floor. Six or seven of us went around and got Hamilton and Day again. They talked over things and finally shook hands. Day said Hamilton was too drunk to fight. Hamilton walked out to about the entrance (indicating on chart). I said: 'You had better stay out here, Ham.'"
 "I said to George: 'Let's not have any fighting.' I was very much excited. Evans was talking loud and shouting. Then there was great confusion."

West Duluth

There was a goodly gathering of the members of the Dynamite club at the club room this morning, and the talk turned from political topics to stories of the lakes, and one old sailor, who does not wish his name published, told the following story of the race between the steamers Northern Light, now tied up at the Eastern Minnesota dock, at West Superior, and the Meteor.

"The Meteor and the Northern Light were two of the largest and best known steamers on the lakes at that time and, of course, the crew of each claimed to have the speediest craft, but it seemed next to impossible to get them together for a speed trial.
 "I remember I was going down the lake at that time, on board the Northern Light, and when we reached the Sault canal we saw the Meteor just ahead bound on a down trip.
 "All through St. Marys Bay the Meteor kept ahead of us, and had a lead of about a mile out into the clear waters of Lake Huron, at Duluth, and when the Sault canal was reached, the Meteor was master of the Meteor and Capt. Murch commanded the Northern Light. Wilkins was always a great booster, and it is said that he threatened to keep out of our sight, but Murch was his match, and the great race began.
 "Coal was heaped into the furnaces until the smoke rolled up in tarry clouds from the funnels, and the vessels trembled with the vibrations of the machinery. The Northern Light gradually drew up to the head of the canal at night we were abreast of her. It was a race clear from Detroit to Duluth. Of course all the passengers were excited, and there was no thought of sleep. Everybody stood up on deck to watch the race. As the night wore on the Meteor slowly crept away from the Meteor, and at midnight her lights were a half mile astern. Even then the race did not stop, but was kept up all day and all night. Capt. Wilkins, it is reported, even going down into the engine room and shoveling coal himself when a man played out. The next day we arrived in Duluth and the Meteor was there, and were just leaving, twenty minutes later, when the Meteor came in. The race was the talk of the marine circles at that time.
 "The president of the club administered the usual oath as to the authenticity of the story told, and the club adjourned for luncheon."

SENTENCED.

Berlin Commissioner Gets His Just Deserts For Crime Committed.

Berlin, Feb. 15.—Criminal Commissioner Thiel was today sentenced to a year's penal servitude and five years' deprivation of privileges, on account of the charges brought against him on account of his connection with the Sternberg case.
 It was announced Dec. 5, by the state's attorney, during the trial of Sternberg, the Berlin banker, for an alleged offense against morality, that Criminal Commissioner Thiel had made a full confession to the examining judge that he took bribes from Lepina, an agent for Sternberg, for official reports and evidence against Sternberg, and that he had also admitted the truth of the statement made by President Storheim (Stierstorff) by offering him a villa on Lake Geneva.
 The state's attorney also said that Thiel's confession implicated Dr. Werthauer, one of the lawyers for the defense, Thiel having accused him of receiving purchased documents. A motion was made by the state's attorney to run immediate search of Dr. Werthauer's office, but the court declined to grant it on the ground that such a search would be illegal. Luppia fled about the middle of November.

Why is Electric Light Best
Because it is healthy, clean, pure and brilliant.
HEALTHY It has no odor. Professor Thompson states that one cubic foot of gas consumes as much oxygen as four adults.
CLEAN! It causes no discolorations of furnishings and decorations in homes.
SAFE! An electric bell work, no danger of suffocation.
CHEAP! By using a little care in turning off lights when not in use it is cheaper than any other illumination.

SEVENTEEN LIONS
Were Killed By Roosevelt and Parly on Their Trip.
Meeker, Col., Feb. 15.—Vice President-elect Roosevelt and John Goff arrived at Meeker from the Keystone ranch yesterday at 3 o'clock, having ended their hunt for big game. When asked for interviews the governor referred the car-respondent to Mr. Goff. The latter said seventeen lions were killed during the hunt and that the governor himself killed four with his knife and eight with his rifle.

Governor Roosevelt expressed himself as having had the most enjoyable time of his life. He will leave Meeker today in a special conveyance. He will take the train this evening at Rile, whence he probably will go home.

CHANGES OF ALTITUDE.
Pronounced to Be a Complete Cure For Consumption.
Santa Fe, N. M., Feb. 15.—Professor Wainwright of the University of New Mexico, conducting experiments under the university biological department, has evolved what he pronounces a complete cure for consumption. He declares the transitory effects upon the blood corpuscles of a person passing from a lower to a higher altitude are renewed by frequent changes of altitude. By occasional visits to the sea level, the system can be reinvigorated, even when the effects of the higher altitude have been worn off.

TO REFUND MONEY.
Cincinnati, Ohio, Feb. 15.—Nothing remains of the plant projected for the Jeffries-Rublin fight except the refunding of money for tickets next Tuesday. It is understood the wrestling company which has paid $2500 for the Saengerfest hall will soon remove the structure. Next Friday evening a benefit will be given for the relief of the Saengerfest Athletic club. It will be held at Music hall.

ATTACK ON SOLDIERS' HOME
A Memorial From Inmates Causes Warm Discussion In House and Is Finally Ordered Printed In Journal.
Alford's Bill on Salary of Sheriff Passed Without Comment—Senate Did Business of Minor Importance.

St. Paul, Feb. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. A. Peterson presented a petition from the inmates of the soldiers' home asking increase of their pension allowance and the righting of other grievances. The petition was long and consisted largely of an attack on the management of the home. Mr. Dohbin, an old soldier, protested against the reception of the petition in its present shape, asserting that it was a mass of misstatements. He did not believe it was ever written by any old soldiers. Mr. Peterson resented this remark, and denounced it as untrue.

Mr. Roberts endorsed the view of Mr. Dohbin and opposed a motion to print the memorial in the house journal. The old soldiers in the house almost without exception denounced the memorial as untrue in many particulars, but believed the inmates of the home should be heard and their cases investigated. Mr. Riley, an old soldier, upheld the right of petition, and had opposed printing the memorial at this time, but because of the speeches made, declared he was constrained to vote to print. By a vote of 34 to 37, the motion to print was carried.

The Davis memorial committee reported that they had invited Lieutenant Governor Smith, Senators McGovern, Snyder and Ryder, and Representatives Roberts, Pennington, Riley and Hurd to deliver addresses on that subject. Mr. O'Neill introduced a bill extending the limits of the Itasca state park. Mr. Denning introduced a bill prohibiting fishing or hunting in or near public parks. Mr. Pope introduced a measure fixing county auditors' salaries according to the valuations in the various counties. Uniform accounting systems in public institutions are to be amended by a new bill by Mr. Sweet. An act commission of five is provided for in a new bill by Mr. Wallace, the object being to pass upon the artistic excellence of a public buildings, ornaments or art treasury for public buildings.

The calendar was cleared, five bills being passed, one killed and one sent back to committee of the whole. The Alford bill fixing a salary of $4000 for the sheriff of St. Louis county was passed without comment or opposition. Hunt's bill punishing fraudulent wolf bounty claimants and Busby's amendment to the renovated butter law were among the others passed. Dunn's bill empowering probate judges to place memorial stones over graves was killed, 45 to 65. Sargent's measure relating to congress of residence prior to elections was sent back to general orders for amendment. Adjourned till Monday at 11 o'clock.

IN THE SENATE.
St. Paul, Feb. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The senate passed six bills on the calendar today, nearly all being minor or local interest. The Roberts anti-trust memorial passed, 21 to 1, notwithstanding a talk by Senator Stockwell.

Senator McCarthy proposed a new law repealing the restrictive acts of 1899 on new counties. Senator Larson fathered a bill to regulate the practice of magnetic healing. One of Senator Sheehan's bills today provides that a vote for one presidential elector shall count as a vote for all, eliminating the danger of a divided electoral ticket. A state school book commission is provided for in a bill presented by Senator Reeves. Senator McGill presented the state teachers' retirement fund bill, the fund being created by a deduction of 1 per cent from salaries. After adjournment the Hurd oil inspectors bill was given favorable action in the senate committee and like action was taken on the Davis statue bill.

LIKELY TO MEET DEFEAT
Probability That the River and Harbor Bill Will Fail At the Present Session of Congress.

Washington, Feb. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is a widespread belief existing in both branches of congress, but particularly in the house, that the river and harbor bill will fail. Senator Morgan of Alabama has made up his mind to offer the Nicaragua canal bill as a rider on the river and harbor bill, when reported to the senate. The committee on commerce and the prospects are that the measure will be loaded down with other obstacles which will prevent its passage this session. The opinion is now prevalent among public men in Washington that President McKinley foresees an extraordinary session of the Fifty-seventh congress is inevitable. He is aware of the fact that both the Cuban and Philippine questions cannot be solved during the few remaining days of the present session.

The president, therefore, though not formally so, is said to be satisfied an extra session cannot be avoided, much to his regret. Members of both houses of congress are making arrangements to remain here for one or two months after the present session is adjourned sine die. President McKinley is of opinion that it will require only thirty to sixty days for the new congress to complete the work he considers necessary.

Congressmen do not look upon the extra session with favor, but concede to the chief executive the right to assemble the congress in extra session. The session in order to push through the legislation he thinks should be enacted before the adjournment of the new congress, as well as in the management of all international and domestic affairs.

ATTEMPT TO STOP A TRUST
Temporary Injunction Is Issued To Prevent a Monopolistic Combination of the Smelting and Refining Interests.

New York, Feb. 15.—A temporary injunction was served today on the officers of the American Smelting and Refining company, who were present at the company's meeting in Jersey City, restraining them from increasing the capital stock. The injunction will be argued next Tuesday before Vice Chancellor Stevens. The officers of the company desired to increase the capital stock in order to take in the Guggenheim refinery. The complaint on which the temporary injunction was issued alleges that the American Smelting and Refining company had no surplus or working capital on Jan. 1, 1901, and that instead, to a considerable extent impaired. It is also alleged in the complaint that the Guggenheim property is not worth more than $10,000,000, and that the purchase is proposed to be made by an issue of new stock of the American Smelting and Refining company to the extent of $10,000,000, on a basis of 50 per cent for the common stock.

It is also declared in the complaint that the proposed purchase would establish a monopoly in the business of smelting and refining gold and silver ores in the United States and Mexico and therefore would be subject to all the penalties which are prescribed by the statutes of the United States against trusts and monopolies. Affidavits are attached to the complaint in support of the allegations made. The meeting at which the injunction was served was a special one called for the purpose of increasing the capital stock of the company from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000. No business at all had been transacted when the injunction was presented and the meeting took a recess until later in the day. The restraining order was obtained in behalf of S. V. White & Co., holders of 400 shares of common and fifty shares of preferred, William H. Curtis owner of 600 shares, A. S. Sutter, holder of 500 shares, and William Donnelly and Henry Selman, holder of 100 shares each. The hearing on the injunction will be held in Newark.

MILAN BURIED.
Remains of Former King Placed By Side of His Grandmother.

Karlovy, Austria-Hungary, Feb. 15.—Large crowds assembled at the railway station here this morning awaiting the arrival of the remains of former King Milan of Serbia. Funeral arches, draped with black and flying mourning flags were erected at the entrance of the town, the principal square and elsewhere. Many houses were draped and the patriarchal emblem was prominently displayed with emblems of mourning. A special train was in readiness at the frontier town of Semlin, to bring any guests of Serbia desirous of attending the funeral. The authorities at Belgrade were placing difficulties in their way.

Great trouble was experienced in carrying out the king's wish to be buried by the side of his great grandmother, Elizabeth Obrenovich, wife of Milan, founder of the dynasty. The obsequies of the centenarian was discovered when he had vault could not be located, until a certain vault was opened they found that the wooden coffin had fallen apart and that the corpse was exposed. It was in a most remarkable manner that the remains of the king were placed in the vault.

ROOSEVELT DECLINES.
Denver, Feb. 15.—Col. F. B. Montgomery, speaker of the assembly, has received a telegram from Vice President-elect Roosevelt, expressing regret at his inability to accept the invitation to address the assembly. After resting a day or two at Colorado Springs, he will go directly east.

IRISH TO OBSTRUCT
Say They Will Interfere With Every Piece of British Legislation.

Justice to Ireland Is What the Eighty Determined Men Propose to Secure.

New York, Feb. 15.—A dispatch to the Herald from London says: The first parliament of King Edward VII promises to go down in history as "the gag parliament." If the program of the Irish members is carried out, since the various factions have united and a plan of parliamentary campaign has been adopted which is likely to make the present session one of the liveliest on record. Every piece of government legislation is to be opposed up to the point where the closure is necessary, and all private bills are to be talked to death. With eighty determined Irishmen combined into relays and committees for continuous opposition, the campaign of obstruction is certain to be unprecedented.

"We will interfere in every piece of legislation," said John Redmond, the new leader of the Irish party. "No matter whether it refers to an extra grant to the crown or to a tramway line to the north of Scotland, the Irish members will have something to say about it. We have eighty determined men whose object is to get justice to Ireland by every possible means. England has interfered with Irish matters long enough; now we propose to turn the tables. The other day we wanted to extend the boundaries of London. It was a purely local matter, but we were defeated by English and Scotch members. Now we'll show them what we can do in the way of interference with their business."

"Does not the king's speech forebode legislation of the repeal of Ireland was asked. "Nothing of the kind," he replied. "I intend to move an amendment to the address calling for the compulsory sale of the government lands instead of the optional sale which the government offers and means nothing. Mr. Russell will second the motion. We have to face a united Irish party now, including many of their former followers like Mr. Russell. We are not able to put them off with subtleties as heretofore."

"Are you going to do anything relative to the objectionable anti-Catholic oath?" "We will have a bill ready for introduction calling for the repeal of that will, but of many similar Catholic disabilities."

A TEST CASE.
Decision Important to All Franchise Seekers in Porto Rico.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Feb. 15.—Judge William H. Holt, United States district judge for the district of Porto Rico, has decided that the executive council of Porto Rico is not more subject to the sanction than the senate of the United States. This decision was given in a test case, where the U. S. Brothers, of Ponce, proceeded against the executive council and W. S. H. Lothrop, and applied for an injunction under a trolley franchise in Ponce, granted in January, 1900, to the U. S. Brothers, claiming certain vested rights which the franchise violated. The application for the injunction was denied on the grounds, first, that the executive council is a legislative body, even when dealing with franchises over which it has jurisdiction exclusively of the house of delegates; and second, that vested rights did not exist before the American occupation. The supreme court will appeal to the supreme court against the order denying the injunction. The final decision is awaited with interest by many disappointed investors. The matter is important to the franchise seekers, as it touches all grants made by the council.

CONDUCT OF THE BOER WAR
Candid Friends In the House of Lords Giving the British Government Trouble By Demanding the Truth.

New York, Feb. 15.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says: The government is not seriously affected by the amendments to the address moved by the Liberals in the commons, since the opposition is weak and faction rent. Candid friends in the house of lords are more troublesome. The duke of Bedford, who does not ordinarily take much interest in public affairs, is reported to be greatly exercised over evidence of military mismanagement in South Africa and is bent upon making a conspicuous speech early in the session. He is a wealthy liberal, a Unionist landlord, who has served with the greater guards and in the expedition to the Boer war. He is apparently convinced that a good deal of wholesome criticism is due to the government on account of the contemptuous treatment of members by the official responsible for arrangements in the house of lords on Thursday. Sir Henry Fowler proposes to ask Mr. Balfour whether he will consent to the appointment of a committee to consider the question of the conduct of the war, provided for the people's representatives when their attention is drawn to the estimates, his contention being that at the opening of the present session, one of the features of which will be the application to the commons to make provision for maintaining the honor and dignity of the crown, special trouble should have been taken to prevent the members of the popular chamber being thrust into the background. It has been learned that several prominent members who fell in behind the speaker with the intention of proceeding to the house of lords to hear the king's speech abandoned the task when they found that it was impossible for them to keep their places without a physical struggle, and a suggestion is made that if the house of lords is too small to accommodate the people who wish to listen to the message from the throne the ceremony might be transferred to Westminster hall.

AGED PROFESSOR DEAD.
Instructor at West Point Died at the Ripe Age of 75.

West Point, Feb. 15.—Col. Peter S. Michie, professor of the department of natural and experimental philosophy at the United States military academy, died today after a short illness of pneumonia. He was 75 years of age and had been on duty here as a professor since 1871. He was a graduate of the academy in 1854 and stood second in his class. He entered the corps of engineers and was in the operations against the rebels in 1862 and 1863. He is survived by his widow and a daughter, Mrs. John L. Leach. Dennis Mohr, Michie, was killed in the battle of Gettysburg. His only remaining son died from pneumonia.

One Was "On the Square."

Philadelphia, Feb. 16.—Just now city of Philadelphia is possessed of slot machines, representing the year of 16 paid up specialties, saloons, houses and popular boarding houses. An examination of these machines is by order of Mayor Ashbridge disclosed the fact that only one machine in entire lot was "on the level" by owner, and, strangely enough, that came from the roughest, toughest and most thoroughly disreputable lot in the city.

Informer Gibbons, of the Law and Order society, who conducted the raid said that he could stand for an occasional break on a gamble, but he was up by the serious illness of her father. When she was returning, the train was wrecked near Snooker, and she had a very exciting experience.

Dr. and Mrs. Jenauf, of Two Harbors, were Biwabik visitors over Sunday, the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Bray. J. McGowan was in Eveleth on business.

The body of James O'Laughlin, the unfortunate man who was ethical in his own way, was found at the bottom of the well, was found yesterday morning, and was the first of those who were in the well were Village Recorder J. S. Luten, James Carson, five of the men were at work installing the pump, and the others were in the well, purchased, and the well caved in so suddenly that the men were not able to escape any projections that were near by. O'Laughlin was so close to the center of the platform to save himself. The men were so close to the platform, so as to prevent further accidents, and the men were so close to the platform, going on rapidly, and it is hoped that the water supply will be turned on by the end of the week, and the men had been put away when the electric plant was started, and the men were so close to the platform, but they make a poor substitute for the platform, and the men were so close to the platform, and the men were so close to the platform, Thursday and Friday on account of the steam heating apparatus not being in the room, and the men were so close to the platform, the man who was killed, was about as big as a man, and was a very small child, the oldest of whom is but a few years old, and the men were so close to the platform, and the men were so close to the platform, sliding here. THE TURN OF LIFE.

The Most Important Period in a Woman's Existence.—Mrs. Johnson Tells How She Was Helped Over the Trying Time.

CHARLOTTE JOHNSON.

Owing to modern methods of living, not one woman in a thousand approaches this perfectly natural change without experiencing a train of very annoying, and sometimes painful symptoms.

Those dreadful hot flashes, sending the blood surging to the heart until it seems ready to burst, and the faint feeling that follows, sometimes with chills, as if the heart were going to stop for good, are only a few of the symptoms of a dangerous nervous trouble. The nerves are crying out for assistance. The cry should be heeded in time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was prepared to meet the needs of woman's system at this trying period of her life.

The three following letters are guaranteed to be genuine and true, and still further prove what a great medicine Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is for women.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been sick for a long time. I was taken sick with flooding. All my trouble seemed to be in the womb. I ache all the time at the lower part of the womb. The doctor says the womb is covered with ulcers. I suffer with a pain on the left side of my back over the kidney. I am fifty years old and passing through the change of life. Please advise me what to do for relief. Would like to hear from you as soon as possible."—Mrs. CHARLOTTE JOHNSON, Monclova, Ohio.

"I have been taking your remedies, and think they have helped a great deal. I had been in bed for ten weeks when I began taking your Vegetable Compound, but after using it for a short time I was able to get up around the house. The aching in the lower part of my back has left me. The most that troubles me now is the flooding. That is not bad, but still there is a little every day. I am not discouraged yet, and shall continue with your medicine, for I believe it will cure me."—Mrs. CHARLOTTE JOHNSON, Monclova, Ohio.

"I send you this letter to publish for the benefit of others. I was sick for about nine years so that I could not do my work. For three months I could not sit up long enough to have my bed made. I had five different doctors, and all said there was no help for me. My trouble was change of life. I suffered with ulceration of the womb, pain in sides, kidney and stomach trouble, backache, headache, and dizziness. I am well and strong, and feel like a new person. My recovery is a perfect surprise to everybody that knew me. I owe all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I would not do without your medicine for anything. There is no need of women suffering so much if they would take your remedies, for they are a sure cure."—Mrs. CHARLOTTE JOHNSON, Monclova, Ohio.

When one stops to think about the good Mrs. Johnson derived from Mrs. Pinkham's advice and medicine, it seems almost beyond belief; yet it is all true as stated in her three letters published above at her own request.

As a matter of positive fact Mrs. Pinkham has on file thousands of letters from women who have safely carried through that danger period "Change of Life." Mrs. Johnson's cure is not an unusual one for Mrs. Pinkham's medicine to accomplish.

REWARD.—We have deposited with the National City Bank of Lynn, $5000, which will be paid to any person who can find the above testimonial letters in any edition, or were published before obtaining this danger period for Mrs. Pinkham's medicine to accomplish.

MORE FIRES.

Four Incendiary Blazes Found

In the Hotel Majestic at Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 16.—Four fires, all of which are believed to have been of incendiary origin, were discovered yesterday at different times on as many different floors of the Hotel Majestic, which adjoins the Great Northern hotel on Quincy street, between Dearborn and State streets, and which is under process of renovation.

Following the evident attempts at incendiarism Thursday night, in three prominent hostilities, these fires created considerable excitement and resulted in the police and detective forces around the big hotels to be troubled.

Police officials believe attempts are being made to create panics in the big hotels for the purpose of robbery. The fires in the Majestic caused no damage. They were started in piles of shavings and refuse in the hallways of the sky-scraper.

DRUMMER BOY OF SHILOH.

Lancaster, Pa., Feb. 16.—George W. Brice, one of the famous soldiers of the civil war, died here Thursday night. When scarcely 12 years of age he enlisted as a drummer boy. At the battle of Shiloh he displayed remarkable coolness and bravery and was afterwards known by the sobriquet, "The drummer boy of Shiloh," a title perpetuated in song and drama. In this engagement he was blinded by a powder in both eyes, but his sight was restored by a surgical operation. Brice survived three times, and as a scout did valuable service for the Northern cause.

Ten sad years—Now happy

Morell, Ark., Feb. 23, 1900. I suffered with womb trouble for ten years and it seemed to get worse every year, with pains in my head and back. My husband read about Wine of Cardui in the Ladies' Birthday Almanac. I got one bottle of the Wine and a package of Theodor's Black Draught and used them up and started on another bottle. I expect never to be without it as long as money will buy it. I have gotten better every day and my pains are gone. My husband says I look better and better every day. I am thankful for what your medicine has done for me and want everybody to know it.

FRANCES TATAM.

The woman who is afflicted with female ills is in bondage. For days or weeks every month she is languishing on a bed of suffering. She thinks she cannot be free from those terrible pains which manacle her. She knows health would mean freedom and happiness. But she fears she will never be a healthy woman again. She sees nothing but suffering ahead. Mrs. Tatam knew nothing else for ten years. Just think of ten years of agony with within her reach as it is within yours to-day. She might have been cured ten years ago. You can be cured immediately. Mrs. Tatam's experience is only one instance of how many women let their ailments run on indefinitely and unnecessarily. Wine of Cardui is a sure relief for all the ills that torture women to day. It is a quick and permanent relief for falling of the womb, for leucorrhea, for disordered menstruation. Every sufferer knows that terrible dragging pain in the lower abdomen, the aching back, dull head and aching arms and legs. We know that Wine of Cardui will cure every such trouble. Druggists sell $1.00 bottles.

Wilhelmina Returns.

Magnificent Pageant In Amsterdam Over the Return of the Beautiful Dutch Queen and Her Gallant Consort.

Amsterdam, Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first stanza of the prettiest lay of the new century was closed when Queen Wilhelmina and her royal consort returned to the palace after their honeymoon trip for a brief stay prior to going on to The Hague.

It is long since Amsterdam has witnessed such a scene of splendor and enthusiasm, and doubtless in the present generation the gorgeous spectacle will be repeated.

The plaudits from the throats of the enormous crowd which lined the route from the Staat terminus of the railway to the palace, and the cheering and shouting of the thousands of people who were in the streets, are still ringing in my ears as I write.

The glittering pageantry of the scene will never pass away from the memory of those who witnessed it, and there were indeed a million persons in the crowds, if I am not mistaken.

These lined quays and bridges, they piled on barges, hung from balconies, crowded on windmills and steeples, all eager to catch the first glimpse of their young queen and of the lucky man who had come to be to them, by her sweet choice, the shadow of a king.

The main square in the vicinity of the palace is the center of the most stylish part of the city, and the grand square out of the streets and canals from this point permits a view of unsurpassed grandeur. From this point the port itself is but a short distance and on every side branch out dykes and bridges, extending to where two great arched dykes again branch out, and the city is a mass of picture-color and steel, forming lines from the carriage to the somber, what gloomy portals of the state, and under a canopy of blue awning, the young couple passed from the gaze of the crowd, and the feeling of disappointment at what seemed the abrupt disappearance of the center of all the magnificent spectacle overcame the crowd for a moment.

This was only a ruse of the coquettish little queen, however, for as soon as she had disappeared from the eyes of the crowd, she was seen in the distance, and she was received by the members of the royal household, and the grand hall of the Wilhelmina palace, where the queen and her consort were met by a large number of the royal household, and the queen and her consort were met by a large number of the royal household, and the queen and her consort were met by a large number of the royal household.

When the cavalcade halted at the palace, the pikemen and musketeers, clad in the armor of the sixteenth century, and the helmets and breast plates of William the Silent, and the queen and her consort were met by a large number of the royal household, and the queen and her consort were met by a large number of the royal household, and the queen and her consort were met by a large number of the royal household.

Custards, a mixture of milk and eggs, may take a variety of forms and names. They vary in consistency from the liquid custard used as a sauce to the custard pudding which is a solid mass.

The standard rule for making custard is eight eggs to a quart of milk and six ounces of sugar. But a custard may be made with four eggs to a quart of milk and four ounces of sugar.

President Hart of Chicago National League Club Has No Objection to Donahue Becoming Manager of Duluth Team.

GOSSIP OF PUGILISTS.

There were no developments of importance in the Northwestern league during the past week. Reports of an encouraging nature were received from Ashland, Ironwood and Eveleth, showing that the fans in those cities are hustling baseball matters into shape as to be ready for the meeting of the league, which will be held in this city shortly.

Tom Sullivan, manager of the Superior team, and a personal friend of President Hart, of the Chicago National League team, received a letter from Mr. Hart, in which he said that he would have no objection to Tom Donahue's signing with Duluth, and in another Donahue talks enthusiastically of taking hold of the team here, as if it were all settled with him. He is certainly one of the greatest catchers that ever handled a curve, and the advantage of Duluth's securing him as player-manager is obvious.

The Red Wing basketball team is composed of some of the finest men that ever came to this city to compete in sporting and athletic events. Though the attendance at every game between Red Wing and the Y. M. C. A. team was not what it should have been, the sides have done much to promote an interest in the game in this city.

Duluth sporting men expressed no surprise at the little disappointment at the news that the Jeffries-Rubin fight had been stopped by the Cincinnati courts.

The Jeffries-Rubin match dates from the death of the Horton law in New York state. Jeffries, by virtue of winning from Fitzsimmons, Sharkey and Corbett, was heavily favored to win the ring for several years with little opposition. Every time he was followed by whipping Tom Sharkey, which put him on second night to Jeffries. Fitzsimmons whipped him one night and Rubin went down in the lower class again, but Fitz returned from the ring and Rubin went back to his place as second to Jeffries in the heavyweight list.

that O'Rourke was not caught napping.

Though Robert Fitzsimmons has repeatedly declared that he will never fight again, he is reported to have had an encounter at Ashtabula, Ohio, Wednesday, in which a cork-legged backman, a featherweight, bested him in the first round. The story, which may have emanated from an industrial press agent, goes to show that when the Cornishman and his wife arrived at the Nickel Plate depot in a hack, driven by Clarence Sweet, he objected to the fare charged. Though no articles of agreement were signed and there was no purse hanging up, this came out of his retirement by grabbing Sweet's cork leg and attempting to yank him off the box. Hanging onto his carriage, Sweet, without even flinching, swung an accurate left hander that landed squarely on Fitz's precious nose. The blow knocked the Cornishman down, just as Jeffries did the trick at Coney Island, and filled Fitz with astonishment. The Cornishman could not say that he was "doped" this time, and when he got up to continue the battle, Sweet was making his legs to the fastest kind of footwork up the street, having been on the front of the wheels over Robert's foot. As the fight had not been decided in a regular 24-foot ring, Sweet was ordered to drive directly to the stable, where once inside, he double-locked the doors. In view of the fact that Fitz left town the next train eye witnesses who had referred the contest from a distance awarded the decision to the hackman.

Baseball leagues and clubs have been so readily organized that it appears to be a matter of course. It does not cost much to say that such and such a team is in such and such a league and that a team of the best ball diamond in the country, surrounded by the finest players, will stand and bleachers ever built on a ball park. But it does cost money to carry out all of these things. The Huntington avenue grounds of the American league at Philadelphia will cost $25,000 to build, and the Brooklyn club $20,000. A first class ball park in 1931, that plant can be held up as an example to the men who must erect ball parks for their American league clubs. On an average a ball club belonging to a major league will spend from $200,000 to $300,000 a year for salaries. A portion of V. W. Brady's testimony at Cincinnati last Saturday relative to the punch he received in the solar plexus, but more because he was over-anxious and did not wait for the referee's signal, will probably act as a poor-spiriting. Just after the downfall of "Pompadour" James in Nevada it was Brady who declared with vehemence that his man had been both robbed and fouled, and he even went so far as to say that a foul blow would be no more than a legitimate production of the mill. Before the battle both Corbett and Brady stated, with emphasis that the former was in "magnificent physical condition" and would make a chopping block of Fitzsimmons. Because of this authentic information, Corbett's fight should not be set on his chances to the limit. If Brady really means what he says now, it goes to show that Corbett has been a greatly overrated pugilist, just as many persons have alleged with persistence ever since he whipped John L. Sullivan more than eight years ago.

Peter McKelvie, who lived the Southern A. C. McKelvie that he wants more time to train for his contemplated mill with the champion, has been asked to grant the request, and the affair has been postponed three weeks after Feb. 16.

New York, Feb. 15.—Hope is expressed as the London correspondent of the Tribune, that the reference in King Edward's speech to the intention of the government to amend the constitution of the court of final appeal may mean that the ministers are about to attempt the formation of a new court of appeal to replace the House of Lords, the confidence of the whole empire.

At present the incident committee of the House of Lords is studying the methods of procedure to be halting to upon, and important portions of the court of appeal are being discussed. Lord Balfour of Glenageary, a suggestion is made that a court of appeal be formed of three members representing the empire's highest legal intellect and experience, and including one member from each of the British Empire, another of Canada, a third of the United States, and a fourth of Australia. There might be added two or three Irish members, and the Irish Government. Such a court would probably do more to bring the empire together than anything else to bring about imperial unity.

London, Feb. 18.—There is considerable interest here in the outcome of the tariff differences between the United States and Great Britain, and a change in the British fiscal system hope to find in them some support for their contentions that retaliatory duties are not warranted. A LARGE COLONY

Duluthians in New York Seem to Be Experiencing Prosperity.

SOME WHO ARE THERE

H. Perry Mills Represents Firm of London Bankers—Newspaper Men.

From outward indications, all that a man has to do to make a business success in New York city is to receive a little letter from Duluth. There is a large and growing colony of old time Duluthians in New York now and they seem to have, prosperity pretty well cornered.

H. Perry Mills, formerly in the real estate business in this city with Alonzo J. Whitman, is in New York at present, though he is connected with his home in London where he is making with a large financial institution. As a representative of the world, since leaving Duluth, is on the way to this country looking into the security of a $200,000 loan which his London house is about to place.

John Eddy, formerly a reporter on the Duluth Commonwealth, is city editor of the New York Evening Journal, one of the most responsible newspaper positions in the metropolis. Ernest Hainegan, who used to hold a position here in the office of the country treasurer, is on the way to New York. Mr. Egan, formerly a reporter on the Duluth News and Commonwealth.

Arthur W. Little, who was for many years interested in Duluth theaters, has sold out his New York restaurant business, and gone back to theatrical life. He is now out ahead of Leiber & Co.'s company.

Mrs. Little, formerly Miss Sawyer, of West Duluth, is playing this season in the LeRoy company in "The Greatest Thing in the World."

John H. Lundberg, formerly of the Spaulding, and one of the most popular hotel men that has ever been in the Northwest, is chief clerk of the Victoria in New York city.

Fred J. Chipman is busy closing up the affairs of the Price-McCormick firm, the big failure of Duluth, and is expected to return here in a few days.

Edson & Moore, former Duluth attorneys, are reported to have worked into an exceptionally fine law business.

Henry Brown, formerly employed in the Duluth postoffice, is taking a postgraduate course in medicine. Reports from many other Duluthians now in business in Gotham are fairly reeking with prosperity.

Handreds of lives saved every year by having Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil in the house just when it is needed. Cures croup, hoarseness, colds, coughs, etc.

Pneumonia Can Be Prevented. This disease always results from a cold or an attack of the grip, and may be prevented by the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. That remedy was extensively used during the epidemics of the grippe of the past few years, and not a single case has ever been reported that did not recover or that resulted in pneumonia, which shows it to be a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has gained a world-wide reputation for its cures of colds and grip. For sale at Boyce's Drug store.

FOR SAMPSON AND SCHLEY

Senator Hale Introduces a Bill in the Senate to Revive the Grade of Vice Admiral.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Only a few senators being in the chamber when the senate convened today, Mr. Pettigrew suggested the absence of a quorum. Forty-five senators, a quorum, responded. Senator Hale, chairman of the senate committee on naval affairs, today introduced a bill for the revival of the grade of vice-admiral in the navy and authorizing the president to appoint two rear admirals to that office. The bill is in the interest of Admirals Sampson and Schley, and is intended to give them the grade of vice-admiral, as well as the promotion of other officers who served with them in the Spanish war. Senator Hale also introduced the following bill: That the president be authorized in accordance with the provisions of section 1558 of the revised statutes, the thanks of the United States be given to Rear Admiral Vm. B. Sampson, U. S. N., and commander-in-chief of the U. S. naval force on the North Atlantic station during the late war with Spain, and to the officers and men under his command for highly distinguished service in the conflict with the enemy and in carrying on the blockade and naval campaign against the Spanish fleet at Santiago de Cuba, July 1, 1898. That the president be authorized to grant the restoration to be provided and communicated the same to Rear Admiral Sampson and to the officers and men of his late command.

Both measures were prepared at the navy department. In pursuance of previous notice, Mr. Pettigrew introduced the bill in opposition to the ship subsidy bill. Mr. Pettigrew said that the bill was introduced to give the original subsidy bill, Mr. Pettigrew said that the bill was introduced to give the original subsidy bill, Mr. Pettigrew said that the bill was introduced to give the original subsidy bill.

IN CONTEMPT.

Court Renders a Decision Unfavorable to Woolson Spice Company.

Toledo, Ohio, Feb. 18.—The circuit court at noon today handed down its decision in the action of the Arbuckle's, Inc., against the Woolson Spice company, declared to be in contempt of court for refusing to allow the Arbuckle's to examine its books. The court declares that F. M. Brigham, the principal official here of the Woolson Spice company, is in contempt of the court because the Arbuckle's have been allowed access to the Woolson company's books, and it is ordered that he be committed to jail for said contempt. It is further decreed that the court's previous order that the Arbuckle's shall have access to certain books, is to be obeyed. However, the court suspends that order until March 5, and the order for Brigham's imprisonment is to hold in abeyance until the supreme court of Ohio has passed on that feature of the case. An appeal will be taken at once, it is understood, by the Woolson Spice company.

Record Not Broken.

"I notice," said an old timer, "that the News Tribune has a picture of the steamer Bon Ami accompanying a statement that she has broken all records for navigation on Lake Superior with ten months' steady operation. I don't want to detract any from the glory of the Bon Ami, which has done great work this winter, but the record is still untouched and it will be kept intact for some time, probably. I don't remember just what year it was, but some time along in the early '70s we had no ice all winter, and boats ran from May 1 of one year clear through to December of the following year. The record, therefore, is about twenty months instead of ten."

THE VERDI MEMORIAL.

Fine Tribute to Dead Composer By Flauto's Orchestra.
The Verdi memorial concert at the Armory yesterday afternoon was a splendid tribute to the memory of the great composer. The program selected by Mr. Flauto continued much that was difficult and yet, easily within range of his players, which speaks much to their credit. The first number was Verdi's "Funeral March" and then came three overtures, "Traviata," "Ernani" and the march from "Aida." In the presentation and execution were excellent. In point of popular appreciation the Verdi memorial concert was the most successful yet held in Duluth. The Verdi memorial concert was the most successful yet held in Duluth.

SHERLOCK HOLMES IN TOWN

The Famous Detective Said to Be Investigating the Cascarine Affair.

Society Is Excited and Mr. Googleheimer Fainted.

Society is excited, "the 400" are much stirred up and put out and Mr. Googleheimer claims he won't have it. "don't ever know" Nevertheless, Sherlock Holmes arrived and will investigate. Googleheimer claims that Holmes will never come out of the investigation alive. Charley always was a dangerous man, "don't they know," but Sherlock knows his buzz.

Miss Cascarine, as every one will remember, caused considerable excitement some months ago. She arrived in town and posed as a French countess. She was a big, dark, and very handsome woman, and she was very much in love with Mr. Googleheimer, realizing that she had a good thing, led "Google boy" to think that she was in love with him. One cool evening, when the moon went down behind the Washburn building, his silver rays on Googleheimer and the countess, he proposed to her. No one knows whether she accepted or not, but every one does know that after that night Googleheimer became a different man. In the first place, his face, which was always covered with pimples, became as fair as any woman's. His breath, which was always offensive, became as sweet as the incense of a fresh budding rose; he became lively and complained no more of his kidney trouble, which he had suffered with for years. Oh! Googleheimer changed mightily, I tell you, and why he changed is a mystery which no one knows and which Sherlock Holmes is investigating. Sherlock Holmes is investigating the matter, and after weighing all facts carefully, decided that Googleheimer's secret should be made known to every man, woman and child in the world. In the first place," said Sherlock with a faint smile of satisfaction on his severe features, "Googleheimer became a man of life and vigor, by using Cascarine, the great remedy which Miss Cascarine advised him to use. After investigating his case thoroughly I find Cascarine cured him absolutely, and I recommend it to every one."

COMES TO DULUTH

Purchasing Department of Minnesota Iron Company Transferred Here.

IS IMPORTANT MOVE

Means That Supplies For Mines Will Hereafter Be Bought Here.

The purchasing department of the Minnesota Iron Company and its related mining companies have been moved to Duluth from Chicago, and Fred H. White, who has been paymaster of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad, has been promoted to purchasing agent. The change will be of importance to Duluth, because hereafter all of the supplies and machinery needed for the mining companies will be purchased here instead of at Chicago. This amounts to a large sum in the course of a year, and while Duluth has had much of this business before it will be more likely to get it with the purchasing department located here. The companies represented are the Minnesota, Auburn, Genoa, Fayal, Elba and Chandler. The business houses of Duluth that have been made a part of the change are much gratified and they are disposed to record much credit for the change to President Gooding, of the Minnesota Iron Company. That it will be of much benefit to the business interests of this city they are confident.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: It affords me great pleasure to call the attention of the public to MME. YALE'S Hair Tonic, which is the first and only remedy known to chemistry which positively turns gray hair back to the original color without dye. It has gone on record that MME. YALE—Wonderful woman chemist—has made this most valuable of all chemical discoveries. MME. YALE personally indorses its action and gives the public her solemn guarantee that it has been tested in every conceivable way and has proved itself to be the ONLY Hair Tonic. IT STOPS HAIR FALLING. It immediately creates a luxuriant growth. Contains no injurious ingredients. Physicians and chemists invited to analyze it. It is not sticky or greasy, on the contrary, it makes the hair soft, youthful and keeps it in curl. For gentlemen and ladies, entirely gray and with bald heads, it is especially recommended.

A SCIENTIFIC MEDICINE.

Dear Madame Yale:—I wish to testify to the fact that your Excelsior Hair Tonic is a scientific medicine and I believe the only one that treats the hair as a sick member and feeds and nourishes it until it is restored to its natural state of health. I cheerfully recommend it to my friends and acquaintances and I am sure that I have the utmost confidence in the efficacy of all your remedies. Respectfully, MRS. C. L. BROWN, 51 Harper Avenue, Detroit, Mich.

Madame Yale's Hair Tonic is sold throughout the world at $1.00 per bottle. Manufactured only by Madame Yale, 159 Michigan Avenue, Chicago.

We carry a full line of Madame Yale's remedies at all times.

Interesting Case of Paul Crowe Against A. B. Wolvin On Trial.

A STOKER INVOLVED

Plaintiff Claims He Agreed to a Rate When He Was Ill.

The case of Paul L. Crowe against A. B. Wolvin was taken up in district court this morning, before Judge Cant and a jury. Twenty men were summoned for jury duty on the case, and nearly all of them were called before the jury this morning. As the case came on it was found that the defendant, A. B. Wolvin, had been excused for the term, the defendant, at whose request the postponement was taken, reimbursed the court for the expense of calling the extra venire.

The case is rather an interesting and important one. The plaintiff is the inventor of a furnace or stoker that is said to be a great improvement, and he sues to correct a contract made with the defendant, by which the latter is to manufacture the stokers and pay Crowe a royalty. Crowe had a contract with the Northwestern Supply company to build the stokers, and four of them were made for use on the big vessels of the American Steamship company, the James J. Hill, the Gates, the Eldenborn and the Elwood. These stokers were not working very well, so an arrangement was made by which Mr. Wolvin was to take over the contract from the Northwestern Supply company and build them. They were also to be improved.

Crowe claims that the contract was made while he was ill in the hospital from typhoid fever, and that he agreed to a royalty of 50 per cent. based on an average of twenty-five square feet of coal-burning furnace to the stoker. Crowe afterwards bethought himself that if the stokers were made large he would be loser, so he insisted on making the contract read so much square foot instead of so much per stoker. He claims that it was while he was in the hospital, and that he was not in a condition to make his own computation, and that he was threatened with the loss of his life if he refused to sign the contract.

The case goes to the jury simply on the question of fact whether or not the $1 rate named in the contract is a mistake. That settled, the balance of the suit rests with the court, though that is the principal question at issue.

H. R. Fryberger appears for the plaintiff and J. L. Washburn and W. D. Bailey for the defendant. Capt. W. C. King is not in the city, but his attorney, Mr. Washburn, stated in court this morning that he is expected back tomorrow or next day.

The council this evening will devote its meeting largely to the matter of the new council. Among the matters to be considered will be the question of requiring larger bonds of the council members.

It is likely that the city is getting a charter limit has been reached in the matter of bonds, and when the sale of the permanent improvement revolving fund bonds next week, additional security from depositors will be required.
